EXPLORER TO SEARCH FOR AMUNDSEN

Frenchman Awaits Norway's Word To Set Sail For Searchers Of Pole

BULLETIN
PARIS, June 1.—Dr. Charcot, the famous French explorer, today confirmed the report that his ship, the "Pourquoi Pas," the (Why not), would leave to search for Amundsen, the North pole explorer, immediately on receipt of the Norwegian government's answer to Foreign Minister Briand's offer of aid.

LONDON, June 1.—That Captain Roald Amundsen and his associate flyer, Lieutenant Lincoln Ellsworth may have been deceived by the smooth appearance of the ice at the North pole and have landed their airplanes in a pit or crevice was the theory advanced here today by aviators and explorers to explain the eleven days of silence of the expedition that left Spitzbergen eleven days ago for presumably an eighteen hour trip to the pole.

Although offers to aid have been made to the Norwegian government by the United States, France, Italy and individuals, there is as yet no definite move for a relief expedition. Apparently it is the belief of experts that it is too early to think the party needs relief. The opinion is growing, however, that Amundsen is returning by water, the belief being based on the theory that he was unable to land his planes in such shape that they are available for the return trip.

Midwest Emerges From Week-End Heat Wave

CHICAGO, June 1.—Chicago and the middle west emerged today from the week-end heat wave which set the mercury up to 92 degrees and caused two deaths. Intermittent showers will bring relief. The thermometer in Chicago rose from 70 degrees in the morning to the high mark in the evening.

Ralph Dove lost his life while bathing. William Bealing, 11 weeks old, died from convulsions due to the heat.

HEIRS WIN FIGHT

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Heirs of Henry C. Frick, coal and railroad magnate of Pittsburgh, who died in 1919, leaving an estate valued at $90,000,000, won in supreme court of the United States today their appeal to escape payment of $1,188,240 transfer inheritance tax, in addition to $1,978,949 admitted and paid under the Pennsylvania state inheritance tax laws. The court reversed the decision of the Pennsylvania supreme court.

ACTRESS ACCUSED

LOS ANGELES, June 1.—Hazel Garland, actress and former screen player, was held by police today on suspicion of robbery, following a trip to the beach, where it was charged her companion, J. C. Mitchell, wealthy Trinidad, Colo. resident, was robbed of a $1200 ring. Paul Witt, Miss Garland's vaudeville partner, also was held.

JUNE BRIDE, 76

PASADENA, June 1.—One of the first June brides was Mrs. Mary E. White, 76, married here today to Robert Lyons, 81, Civil war veteran. The bride and groom have been neighbors in Pasadena for 17 years.

Evening News Makes Gain In Display and Classified

With a daily average of display and classified advertising greater in May this year than it was in May last year is indeed encouraging for The Evening News—especially when it is considered that another daily paper fell BACK more than 5000 inches in display in May this year as compared with May last year, and a loss of more than 1000 inches in classified in May this year as compared with May last year.

For the month of May The Evening News leads any other newspaper published in Glendale—display 46 per cent and classified 80 per cent.

Thorough circulation and being disconnected from any Los Angeles paper are the causes of the superior business-getting power of The Evening News.

Stricken While Reading Bible

THOMAS R. MARSHALL, former vice-president of the United States, who died suddenly in Washington today. He had been ill at a hotel with a severe cold.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Thomas Riley Marshall of Indiana, age 71, former vice-president of the United States, died here this morning.

Marshall had been ill at a hotel with a severe cold contracted during a trip to the capital from his home in Indianapolis. His condition had improved during the past few days, however, and physicians regarded him as on the way to recovery.

The end came at 9:40 a. m., while the former vice-president was sitting up in bed reading his Bible. After delivering a number of addresses in Indiana, Marshall came here a week ago today. He suffered a heart attack upon his arrival and has been in bed since. His nurse was in the room when he suddenly fell forward—dead, and Mrs. Marshall was in an adjoining room.

Funeral Services
Funeral arrangements had not been completed at noon today, except that Marshall would be buried in the Odd Fellows' cemetery at Marion, Ind., where his father, (Turn to page 11, col. 5)

RAILROAD WAR CENTERS IN OREGON

Great Northern, Southern Pacific Fight To Get Central Control

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—A railroad war between the Southern Pacific and the Great Northern for control of the rich central Oregon country was under way today following authorization by the Southern Pacific of $30,000,000 for the building of new roads and the purchase of existing ones in an effort to shut out the Great Northern from Central Oregon, one of the few sections of the west which remains comparatively undeveloped.

According to railroad men, the fight started when the Great Northern applied to the Interstate Commerce Commission for a decree prohibiting it from continuing its system of operation.

Civil and criminal cases against the corporations are pending in federal courts in New York and Chicago. Under the decision these cases will be abandoned by the government.

Involved in the case was the legality of the collection, compilation and dissemination of comprehensive trade statistical data through the instrumentality of a so-called reciprocal trade association.

SCHOONER BURNS

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—Bursting into flames after a terrific explosion the twenty-ton auxiliary fishing schooner Madeline burned to the water's edge and sank off Point Reyes, thirty miles north of the Golden Gate, shortly after midnight, according to advices to the coast guard service here today. Her crew of four men was rescued.

DARING PLOT TO KIDNAP ADMITTED

Trio Confesses Scheming To Abduct Coogan, Pickford And Doheny Children

LOS ANGELES, June 1.—Complete confessions that they planned to kidnap Mary Pickford, Pola Negri, Jackie Coogan and the grandchildren of E. L. Doheny, Los Angeles oil millionaire, were made today by Adrian A. Woods, Claude Holcomb and C. A. Stevens, according to police. The trio, arrested as suspects in the kidnapping plot, signed confessions telling how they plotted to kidnap the screen stars while disguised as Shriners.

Despite his alleged confession, Stevens planned to make a fight for liberty and today engaged S. S. Hahn, leading Los Angeles criminal attorney, to defend him. Hahn prepared to fight for a writ of habeas corpus, returnable tomorrow. The confessions climaxed two days of grilling in the most astonishing abduction scheme in Los Angeles police annals, officers declared.

Stevens' wife declared her husband innocent, and conferred with Hahn during the day. Mrs. Stevens, formerly a nurse at Tyrone, N. M., was married to the alleged plotter in 1917.

For more than two weeks, police said, they had shadowed the trio and Miss Pickford had been constantly under guard and her husband, Douglas Fairbanks, heavily armed. The man will be arraigned probably tomorrow on a conspiracy charge. Occupying a room next to that of the three plotters in a downtown hotel, detectives heard every detail of the kidnapping plot discussed by the trio, with Stevens directing the scheme.

The plot, as outlined in the three confessions, was for the men, all heavily armed, to visit the Pickford studio, follow Miss Pickford when she left by automobile for her home and kidnap her after crowding her car off the road. They intended to shoot Fairbanks and the actress' chauffeur if necessary, they said.

Plans had been perfected to remove the star to a house on North Broadway and a "chain letter" system was arranged for the payment of a $200,000 ransom. They planned to force Miss Pickford to write her husband to proceed to a certain place. There he would find a note sending him to a second point and at third point he was to receive the ransom request. By this method, it was pointed out, the plotters would have been able to determine if Fairbanks was being followed.

If he were alone, one of the men, garbed as a private patrolman, was to accost Fairbanks and obtain the money.

Cement Makers Freed On Anti-Trust Charge

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The United States supreme court ruled today that the Cement Manufacturers' association, an incorporation of fifteen corporations, manufacturers and distributors of Portland cement, was not a combination or conspiracy in restraint of trade under the Sherman anti-trust law.

By this ruling the supreme court reversed a decision of the New York federal court, which found the association guilty of conspiracy and issued a decree prohibiting it from continuing its system of operation.

Civil and criminal cases against the corporations are pending in federal courts in New York and Chicago. Under the decision these cases will be abandoned by the government.

Dirigible to Make Hawaii Trip In August

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The navy dirigible, Los Angeles, will make a flight to Hawaii early in August, the navy department announced today.

To prepare for the trip, the navy ordered the Los Angeles deflated and completely overhauled. While the Los Angeles is in hangar at the Naval Air Station, the Shenandoah will make several flights along the Atlantic seaboard.

FRANCE RILES BRITISHERS WITH NOTE

London Expects To Find U. S. With Germany If Pact Develops Impasse

By DAVID M. CHURCH
For International News Service.
LONDON, June 1.—If an impasse develops in the efforts of France to bring about a security pact, Great Britain would expect to find the United States on the side of Germany, it was said in diplomatic circles today.

American diplomats, it was pointed out, have been continually reporting that Germany is thoroughly disarmed and that allied powers for further disarmament would be merely an attempt to hamper Germany's economic recovery.

Germany will be in possession tomorrow of the note of the council of ambassadors on the subject of violating the Versailles treaty, the note having been mailed from Paris yesterday.

Reaction in England today was considerably nullified by reason of this being a bank holiday and Britons appeared to be more intent on holidaying than on diplomatic affairs.

Britons Skeptical

It is the general impression that Great Britain is inclined to stand aloof from a security pact to aid France for thirty years to protect her borders. There is a tendency to doubt the good effect of the disarmament note to Germany, fearing that it might bring about an overthrow of the Hindenburg government and create new political chaos.

Some British leaders are skeptical of the wisdom of a disarmament note of any kind to Germany.

Funeral Services Are Planned For Brothers

LOS ANGELES, June 1.—Funeral services will be held here tomorrow for Philip A. Gross, 35, and his brother Walter, 27, who lost their lives in an attempt to save Violet Gross, 15-year-old daughter of Philip Gross, who was caught in a rip tide. Answering Violet's call for help the two brothers swam to her aid but were themselves caught in the tide, while Edward Bruckner saved the drowning girl.

Lost Shepherd Witness Found In Pittsburgh

CHICAGO, June 1.—Robert White, missing witness in the William D. Shepherd trial, who has been sought over half the country for more than two weeks, is in Pittsburgh today broke and weary, and ready to return to Chicago if someone will advance railroad fare. The witness was definitely established this afternoon by International News Service.

ASSAULT CHARGED

LOS ANGELES, June 1.—Police today sought a young man reported having been attacked and his unconscious body carried from Hollywood in an automobile. Several teeth and a torn vest were found at the spot where D. E. Golvin, Hollywood resident, reported he saw the young man attacked. Golvin claimed when he attempted to stop the assault of the man his attackers ordered him away, sticking a gun in his face.

CITY IS HOST TO VISITING SHRINERS

Glendale Streets Decorated For Invading Hosts During Convention

Glendale today awaited in gala attire to welcome thousands of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine who will visit this city during the six days of the Shrine convention now under way in Los Angeles.

Visitors from all parts of America will come to Glendale during the convention. Elaborate preparations to entertain Nobles and their parties have been completed by Glendale Shrine club under L. H. Wilson, president, and a large staff of committees.

Streets of the downtown district are gayly decorated in honor of the Shriners. Bunting of red, yellow and green, bunting light poles along all main thoroughfares. Show windows in the business district display a riot of bright color in merchandise carrying out the Shrine motif.

Big Advertisement

The city of Glendale and the Chamber of Commerce co-operating, will draw the attention of thousands of Shriners by large six-column advertisements which will appear in metropolitan newspapers Tuesday and Thursday of this week. The ads will carry views of Glendale and a cordial invitation to all Shriners to visit the city before returning home.

Shrine parties coming to Glendale will be presented with handsome leather bill folders bearing the words, "Glendale, the Fastest Growing City in America." Thirty thousand copies of "Glendale in Pictures," a thirty-two page folder containing views of interesting points in the city will be distributed from Glendale Shrine club headquarters at 109-A North Brand boulevard, and from downtown headquarters of the Shriners in Los Angeles.

Visiting Shriners will be taken on an automobile tour of the city upon their arrival here. They will be shown Glendale's home life as it is, its million dollar high school, inspiring church edifices, (Turn to page 11, col. 8)

Sight Seeing Tours Around Glendale Planned By Local Committee

The Glendale Shrine club will occupy the place of honor in the escort to the various Shrine organizations composing the official Shrine night parade on Wednesday night, according to an announcement made by illustrious Noble Motley H. Flint, director general. This is the only parade in which the entire nobility of the Glendale Shrine club will participate.

The official uniform for the parade will be full dress and fez. Noble L. H. Wilson announces that marchers who prefer to wear tuxedos may do so. Another company will be formed of those who appear in black coat, white trousers, white shirt, white shoes and black bow tie, he said.

The local club members will assemble on West Twentieth street between Flower street and Grand avenue, Los Angeles, at 7 o'clock Wednesday night. Illuminated Shrine souvenir parols will be furnished each Noble, and the line of march will be south in Figueroa street into the Coliseum, where opportunity will be given each marcher to view the remainder of the parade.

L. H. Wilson will be major of the Glendale Shrine club battalion and will be assisted by the following captains, J. S. Thompson, F. Ray Gartley and T. Watson.

MURDERER SOUGHT

ROME, June 1.—A reward of $2000 was spurring police and civilians to renewed efforts today to find a brutal murderer of children who has been terrorizing the lower class families of Rome. The third victim, a girl of 7, was found Sunday. Marks on the child's throat indicated to police she had been strangled.

RAILWAY EXPANDS

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The Southern Pacific railroad asked the Interstate Commerce Commission today for authority to acquire control by lease of the Lake Tahoe Railway and Transportation Co., whose line runs from Truckee to Tahoe City, a distance of sixteen miles.

BODY RECOVERED

SANTA ROSA, June 1.—The body of Myron Jacobson, 19, San Francisco, who lost his life while swimming in Russian river Saturday, was recovered today.

Martial Law In Shanghai In Effort To Quell Further Disputes

BULLETIN
SHANGHAI, June 1.—Prince George of England arrived here today from Hong Kong to join the British Asiatic squadron. He was entertained at a luncheon in his honor at the American Country club. The prince was being heavily guarded owing to the student disturbances.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Outbreaks of violence in China probably will lead to American warships being sent to Shanghai at once to aid in protecting foreign lives and property, it was learned here today.

In a report to the state department, Edwin S. Cunningham, the United States consul general at Shanghai, said that foreign police and volunteer reservists already had been called out to maintain order.

Proclaim Martial Law In Effort To Gain Quiet

SHANGHAI, June 1.—The Shanghai municipal council proclaimed martial law this afternoon in an effort to restore quiet to the strike-torn city. Groups of more than seven were forbidden to gather in the streets.

All suspected Bolsheviks were taken in custody by police who held that the strike agitation in Japanese cotton factories which started the rioting was Communist inspired.

Three more Chinese were wounded when a mob attacked a policeman. The Japanese primary school was closed because of numerous attacks on Japanese pupils, and minor assaults on Japanese men and women also being reported.

Students Join Rioting As Result of Big Strike

SHANGHAI, June 1.—Shanghai's general strike and boycott brought fresh bloodshed and enlarged casualty in a city rife with excitement.

Between ten and twenty Chinese were seriously wounded when police fired on a mob again attempting to block traffic on the Nanking road, principal highway of the foreign settlement. Three more deaths were added to the casualties in the disturbances following the Chinese protest against discharge of Chinese employed by a European cotton factory.

As a result of the disturbances, United States Consul General E. S. Cunningham of

ATWATER VOTERS TO BOOST BOND ISSUES

Residents of District Prepared to Go to Polls Tomorrow; Councilmanic Race Is Drawing to Close

Voters of the Atwater district, constituting half of the registered electorate in the First ward, prepared to go to the polls tomorrow to vote on a city councilman and register their decision on three bond issues which vitally affect the district.

A big vote in favor of the bonds for new Glendale, Hyperion and Fletcher drive bridges, calling for $500,000, is expected in the Atwater district and throughout the first ward generally, as the bridge projects all lie within the district and have a direct bearing on present crowded traffic conditions.

Bonds for new branch libraries, one of which will be located in Atwater Park, and for school tunnels, are likewise expected to receive large majority votes in the section. If the tunnel bonds carry, the present dangerous crossings at Atwater avenue and Glendale boulevard will be one of the first to be eliminated.

In the councilmanic race the voters will decide between Charlie T. Wardlaw, veteran banker and for many years a resident of the San Fernando valley, and Charles H. Randall, former congressman and active prohibitionist.

Following the elimination of E. E. Lampton, Atwater man, from the race in the primary election, both Wardlaw and Randall have striven to corral the large Lampton vote. Both candidates have campaigned actively in the district. Civic leaders, for the most part, have espoused the cause of Wardlaw on the grounds that he is an old resident of the district and more familiar with its needs, having been active in improvement work here for a score of years.

School Mass Meeting

Strongly protesting plans to have the proposed new high school for their district located on the old Vitagraph film lot off Sunset boulevard, advocates of the Ivanhoe Hills high school announced a mass meeting for tomorrow night when action to assure the designation of a site bounded by Monon, George, Childs and Tracy streets, will be taken. Atwater residents will join in advocating the Ivanhoe Hills site as that location is several miles nearer the Atwater district than the proposed Sunset boulevard property. Action by the Atwater Improvement association favoring the Ivanhoe school will be taken following the mass meeting to night when a plan of action will be decided upon, President Arthur M. Gilman said.

Celebrate Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Clinton, 2444 Garden avenue, were honored guests at a surprise party given last night by their daughter, Miss Audrey Clinton, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lon Gardner, 3460 Perilla avenue. The motif for the party was the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton. Spring flowers were used to decorate the Gardner home. Tables were arranged for five-hundred prizes. Thirty people were present. Ice-cream and cake were served by Miss Clinton, assisted by Mrs. Gardner.

District Building Notes

A. W. Marshall announced the purchase of property on Atwater avenue, near Kerr street, from Blanch Marie Derrick.

Clifford Fowler has purchased the property of R. R. Hornbeck on Hollywood drive near Pettie court.

Realty agents of the Atwater district report activity in Walnut grove property, where a number of transfers have been made during the past ten days. Among the sales reported was that made by Jans Jorgensen of his property on Edenhurst avenue to Frank R. Doty.

RADIO EXPERT TO CONTINUE TESTS

Dr. Rogers Seeks To Prove Earth Superior To Air
As Transmitter

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Dr. J. Harris Rogers, father of the underground wireless, is preparing a series of experiments for next winter to further demonstrate his theory of the superiority of the earth to the air as a transmitter of radio waves. This series will probably be his last for the famous scientist is well on in years and intends to retire.

With his underground antennae which served to detect German dispatches during the war, now buried under his laboratory in Hyattsville, Maryland, Dr. Rogers believes he can give additional proof of the advantages of the ground transmission and reception.

His successful attempts to communicate with the Pacific coast by means of buried transmitting antennae, discontinued because of static and unfavorable weather conditions, will be resumed in fall.

"I hope to be able next winter to demonstrate the remarkable ability of the earth to serve as a static reducer through the use of underground antennae for both transmitting and receiving," Dr. Rogers declared today. "There is no doubt that in my tests this spring, the ground has proved its powers of reducing static and at the same time minimizing fading."

Dr. Rogers hopes to have the assistance of amateurs in the middle west and on the Pacific coast next winter when he starts a new series of tests as he did recently when volunteers on the Pacific coast laid underground antennae and picked up the signals sent from the Maryland laboratory.

"I hope now," he said today, "to receive this co-operation both in sending and receiving towards the end of the summer and at a time before the bad static season is ended."

PACIFIST HIT BY BLEDSOE IN SPEECH

Former Federal Judge Raps Plan To Banish Arms In United States

A denunciation of those who would strip the United States of its arms and for all times banish war regardless of the consequences, came from the lips of Benjamin F. Bledsoe, former federal judge, who delivered the main address at Memorial day services at Forest Lawn Memorial park. Thousands of persons who filled the cemetery grounds heard Judge Bledsoe brand the pacifists.

"Ever in the past America has won her peace by resistance to evil. She has never bought it through compromise. When report to reason and better judgment proves unavailing in the future, the fundamentals and foundations of our government are threatened by a foe, we will, in reverence to those who have fought and died for these principles in the past, again win our peace through resistance, never compromising with evil," Judge Bledsoe declared.

"The nation is not worthy to be saved, which, in the hour of its fate, will not gather up the jewels of its manhood and either go down to immeasurable ruin or achieve complete success."

Judge Bledsoe's stand against "peace at any price" was roundly applauded by hundreds of uniformed men who stood in the audience, many of them with empty sleeves or other physical marks that bore testimony to their willingness to "win the peace of a nation." Other scores who applauded were women, many white haired, who had come to the cemetery to decorate the grave of a loved one who had made the supreme sacrifice in "winning peace."

Judge Bledsoe led up to his tribute to America's soldier heroes, living or dead, by tracing the events prior to, and during the Civil war, when he said, men ought not to acquire territory nor to banish a foreign foe from the land, but solely for the maintain-

City Officially Is Represented By W. F. Tower

Councilman Wilbur F. Tower represented the city of Glendale at memorial services Saturday at Forest Lawn Memorial park in the absence of Mayor Harry G. MacBain from the city.

Councilman Tower introduced Judge Benjamin F. Bledsoe, principal speaker of the afternoon, to the huge assemblage that filled the seats in front of the speakers' platform.

"Judge Bledsoe is a man who for twenty-five years has courageously administered justice in Southern California," Councilman Tower said. "He is one of our most honored citizens and one to whom we look for guidance and counsel."

Councilman Tower placed a wreath on the symbolic grave in the name of the city during the exercises that followed the speech-making at Forest Lawn. Councilman Tower represented the city in a most creditable manner at the exercises.

Prospector Murdered In Rum Feud, Belief

POLLOCK, Cal., June 1.—Believed to have been the victim of a bootleggers' feud, the body of George R. Barnes, 60, a prospector, was found today a mile below here tucked away between two large rocks fifty feet from the river's edge.

His face had been crushed by the blow of a pickhandle found near the body. Barnes had been missing since March 14. His tent was across the river from a camp where an unidentified man was found murdered March 17.

SOUTHLAND IS BOOMING IN ALL LINES

Glendale Evening News Writer Finds Prosperity; Visits 5 Counties

During the last week Gil A. Cowan of The Glendale News staff has personally visited all Southern California centers from Santa Barbara south to the Mexican line to present to you views of economic factors as he found. In one 24-hour period ending last night at 6 o'clock he visited five counties, twenty-five communities and covered nearly 500 miles by motorcycle. Herewith is his illuminating article.

By GIL A. COWAN
 Written for The Evening News.

Business in general has its ups and downs like the rolling countryside of Southern California. Presently this section of the state is on the up-grade with some hard pulling and a lot of ill wind that is bound to blow someone good, to compare conditions figuratively with a trip which the writer has made over nine southland counties.

The summit of this uphill climb of economic factors, giving a proper perspective of the prosperity which prevails here continually, will be reached, perhaps, in two years or less on this rise. However, new goals are being set by the Alpine club of big business men so that the present achievements will appear but a molehill on the mountain of time ten years hence.

Investment in and stress upon industrial development is the fuel now being used not alone in Los Angeles, but in all southland centers. Agriculture development is being delayed by lack of water storage, but the power companies are not the least bit dilatory in making use of these same natural resources in providing a plentiful supply of white coal for the factories.

Oil Inexhaustable

Oil is becoming more precious, although the writer has it on the best of authority—a Glendale man by the way—that you and I will not live to see the day when there is any danger of the present world's oil supply being exhausted. But as time goes on it will be more difficult to locate. The

Sinclair Charges Left Undecided By Jurists

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The District of Columbia court of appeals adjourned today for the summer without handing down a decision in the contempt case brought against Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate, for refusing to answer questions propounded by the Senate committee which investigated the naval oil reserve scandals.

Decision was withheld, Chief Justice Smith declared, because cases involving almost identical questions were before the United States supreme court.

WOMAN KILLED

SACRAMENTO, June 1.—Mrs. Hattie McBride, 35, of Sacramento is dead here as a result of an automobile accident last night when the car in which she was riding was struck by a Sacramento Northern passenger train at Kiesel station, Yolo county. Richard Fell, driver of the car, was seriously injured.

TOWN WIPED OUT

TOKIO, June 1.—Twelve dead and three were missing as the result of a fire which destroyed the fishing village of Sugahama on the sea of Japan, according to advices received here today.

OIL BLAST KILLS 11

MEXICO CITY, June 1.—One American and ten Mexicans are dead at Tampico today as the result of a gas explosion while they were drilling an oil well in the Tampico fields.

Oregon School Law Declared Invalidated

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The Oregon school law requiring all children between 8 and 16 years of age to attend public schools exclusively, was declared unconstitutional today by the United States supreme court. Validity of the law was attacked by the Society of Sisters of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary, a Catholic educational corporation, and by Hill Military academy, a non-sectarian educational institution.

The Indiana Concert and Dramatic Company

The Indiana Concert and Dramatic company will appear at the First Congregational church tomorrow night, presenting plantation memories of the old south. The program will start at 7:45 o'clock and will be held in the lower auditorium. Admission will be free, a silver offering being taken during the event.

Literary, musical and historical sketches will be given by members of the company in costumes of ante-bellum days. The reader of the company, Mrs. Elizabeth Ballard Long, is a native of Kentucky, and has made a specialty of plantation folk lore, preserving the traditions and superstitions of the "old mammy."

Mrs. Frances Johnson, soprano soloist of the company, is a coloratura soprano of note throughout the middle west. She has the gift of a voice rich and full of color, together with a gracious manner and a magnetic charm.

Other members of the company are Lucile Stanley, violinist, a California girl who has been studying in the east with artist teachers; Hilda Palmer Long, accompanist; Mrs. Ida Gray Scott, dramatist, and W. D. Long, manager.

MOTORISTS RETURN

Mrs. J. E. Buie of 1210 North Maryland avenue, and Mrs. Grace Miller of Los Angeles returned Friday night from a month's motor trip to Reno, Nevada. While away they visited in the home of ex-Governor Emmett Boyle of Yarrington, Nevada, and were entertained at several social affairs while there. They were shown through gold, silver and copper mines in Nevada, Mr. Boyle being superintendent of a copper mine in Nevada. Mrs. Buie and Mrs. Miller also visited at Carson City and Candelaria, Nevada and Lake Tahoe before returning to Glendale.

War Secretary Sinks Following Operation

BOSTON, June 1.—Secretary of War John W. Weeks' condition was reported "not so good" by physicians today. From Phillips house, Massachusetts general hospital, where the secretary underwent an operation, came the following bulletin:

"Secretary Weeks' general condition is not so good. He had a restless night. Pulse 90; temperature normal."

Yesterday his condition was given as "not entirely satisfactory" due to an attack of hiccoughs.

MYSTERY ARREST

MEXICO CITY, June 1.—Mystery surrounded the secret removal today from Mexico City of a man named Einstein who was said to be wanted in Los Angeles or San Francisco for fraud. Police officials declined to give details.

Pot of Beans Calls Firemen To Home Blaze

Mrs. George Kilbertus, 402 East Arcadia avenue, left a pot of beans cooking on the stove yesterday morning while she left the kitchen for a short time.

The pot was covered with a cloth. The cloth caught fire. A box of matches was near by. The matches blazed up. Paper was resting on a shelf above the matches. The paper burned, and the wall caught fire. Then Mrs. Kilbertus came back.

The fire department extinguished the blaze. Damage was estimated at $35.

OUTLINE PLAN ON PRECINCT MEETINGS

Polling Places, Committee Members Announced By Bond Issue Backers

Members of the publicly committee on the school bond issue, meeting at the Board of Education headquarters today under the direction of M. Walters, completed plans for precinct meetings tomorrow night, outlined details of the advertising campaign and appointed speakers to appear before the various civic bodies and in the theatres of the city.

District chairmen are to meet at their respective polling places tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock, to work out organization plans. Representatives of civic organizations and all persons interested in the school bond issue are urged by the members of the publicly committee to attend the meetings tomorrow night at their nearest polling place.

The polling places, chairmen and committee members for each precinct, as announced by the publicly committee, follow:

TRIBUTE PAID HEROES AT BURBANK

Mattison B. Jones Principal Speaker At Exercises At Edison School

The plaudits of the nation should go, not only to those who fought to preserve unity in time of war, but also to the statesmen who have done so much in times of peace, declared Mattison B. Jones, prominent Glendale attorney, in his Memorial day address, delivered Saturday at the Edison school in Burbank.

Mr. Jones stressed the value of the great statesmen, the heroes of peace, whose praises are often unsung, and whose work has done much to make the position of American as strong as it is today.

The speaker traced the history of America from the landing of the Pilgrims, through the wars with Great Britain, the Civil war, the Spanish-American war and the recent World war. The losses in humanity occasioned by these struggles, he said, constituted the price of liberty America had paid in order that a freedom and unity might be the heritage of all Americans.

Lauds Brave Deeds

He lauded the brave deeds of those who had participated in the fight for liberty, many of whom have made the supreme sacrifice in order that the nation might enjoy all the principles of freedom. America's present position, he said, as a leader in world's affairs has been made possible by the sacrifices of her sons on the fields where they battled for a principle.

Following the program at the Edison school, the Memorial day parade was formed, and marched through the business section of Burbank. At Third street the marchers disbanded, going in automobiles to Grand View cemetery, where services were held.

At the cemetery the services were opened by the singing of "Battle Hymn of the Republic" by the audience. This was followed by the invocation by Rev. C. R. Norton. The ritualistic service was read by William G. Collins, commander of the G. A. R. James Sargent gave Lincoln's Gettysburg Address. Elmer Fitz sang a tenor solo. Carlton Black spoke on "Americanism." OUR MISSIONARIES

While we are counting upon the thousands of visitors who come to Glendale this summer to advertise us in the east and middle west we must not forget the missionaries we are sending out to almost every state in the Union to carry the gospel of Glendale as the wonder city of the west. Our summer vacationists, who make up that big army that goes back to the old home for a visit every year are carrying on a gigantic publicity campaign, proclaiming to folks in the eastern states that it will be well worth while to respond to the urge to visit California. We miss these people from our homes and streets, for their absence means a slowing up of all activities during the summer months. But they are doing a great work for the home community and eventually their visit among their old friends will react beneficially upon us.

Personal contact is the most effective kind of publicity. One enthusiastic Glendelian circulating among friends in the old home state can get more and better results than the Chamber of Commerce could by spending a hundred dollars. It is safe to say that each one of these summer vacationists going about among his relatives and friends will influence more than one family to come to California.

And, with this kind of advertising, there is no adverse reaction. It is possible to read into printed advertising things that are not there, but when we talk, friend to friend, there is not likely to be any misrepresentation, and there is opportunity for the prospect to learn about the things that especially interest him.

If we supplement the work of these summer vacationists with letters to our friends and relatives we shall find that this advertising campaign, though unorganized and unofficial, has accomplished great results.

LAW ENFORCEMENT CAMPAIGN

A poster campaign is to be launched July 1 from Washington to boost for law enforcement. Prohibitionists are very much wrought up over the character of the posters to be displayed. Lincoln C. Andrews, assistant secretary of the treasury, in charge of dry enforcement, refuses to permit any reference to the eighteenth amendment on the posters. The slogans and pictures are to feature law enforcement in general, without reference to any particular law. The complaint is made that Andrews' stand proves that he is a supporter of prohibition because it is a law and not because it is prohibition.

If every law-enforcement officer supports prohibition because it is a law we do not need to care whether or not he believes in prohibition. Of course it is highly desirable to have our officials believe our laws are good laws as well as to have all our citizens believe it, for the observance and enforcement of them would be automatic, in that case, but we believe that Andrews is showing good judgment in regard to the posters. The man who would not be influenced by the words, "In disregard for law lies the greatest danger to the republic," which it is planned to use on the posters, would not be restrained by the picture of a bootlegger delivering liquor to a customer, with the words, "Demand creates supply." The man who has been patronizing the bootlegger is not anxious that the supply should fail and he will not curtail his orders to bring about such a condition. But if there is any good in him at all, the appeal for the preservation of the republic should make him stop and think.

CALIFORNIA, HERE I COME

The tourist rush to Southern California is on and the Shriners are not responsible for all the travel westward the last few days, either. We are going to have a big summer. Stories that were circulated last year about the hoof and mouth disease kept some people away, but they are coming this year. California may have some competition as a vacation land in the winter, but not in the summer. Florida greets the summer visitor with unbearable heat, the high humidity and the heated period more unbearable than the asphalt streets in New York. In California they find the temperature even, the climate agreeable, the vegetation beautiful, the beaches alluring. When the people of the midwest have the means to get away from home in summer they go where it is cool. That is why they are coming here.

Of course we have faultfinders here, and cults and isms and four-flushers and adventurers and criminals. Every class is attracted here. But, taken as a whole, there is no other section of the United States that can and does arouse the enthusiasm of so many of its visitors, no matter what time of the year they may be here. And so this summer we hear a refrain from over the mountains, faintly but ever increasing in volume, "California, here I come."

INCOME TAX NEWS

The decision of the supreme court that newspapers have a right to publish income tax reports was to be expected. To exclude from the newspapers reports that are open to the public is unjust, even though the law giving the public the right to pry into private affairs is iniquitous in itself, serving only to satisfy curiosity. And it does not even satisfy curiosity to any extent, for the amount of tax paid by a man is no index to his wealth or even to his income.

There are so many ramifications to the income tax regulations that it requires an expert to compute the amount due. How then can anyone learn anything definite about a man's affairs by knowing how much income tax he has paid? If fraud could be discovered by throwing open these reports to the public there might be some excuse for it, but cases where this could be done would be negligible. But, as long as the law gives us the right to pry into the affairs of our neighbors, then these reports are legitimate news.

The world may get international peace, but we don't expect to live to see Al Smith and Bill McAdoo sign a protocol.

A BIRD THAT LAYS NO GOLDEN EGGS

What Is It To Be Human?

By DR. FRANK CRANE

We often say we like such and such a man because "he is so human."

Such a woman attracts us because she is "human."

What we mean by this remark is that they are subject to human frailties.

An old Boston preacher once called on me, and as he lit his cigar and drank some cognac brandy in his coffee after dinner, he said, "I am glad to see a man who has a few redeeming virtues."

Most of us regard vices as evidences of brotherhood. They show that a man is down on our plane and is not removed from us.

We should remember, however, that while it is human to err, as Pope said, it is also human to be conscious of error, to reject it and struggle against it.

The human thing is to have a temptation, to be subject to it. That is one part of our humanity.

Another element of our humanity, however, is to struggle against evil.

We go for comfort and help to the men who have overcome weakness, not to the men who have yielded.

It gives us a fellow feeling for a man to know that he is subject to the same temptations as ourselves. But his advice and example do us no good unless he has successfully combatted with these temptations and overcome them.

It is said of the Master that He was tempted in all points like as we, yet was without sin. It is this very fact of His being without sin, of His having had the temptations and of having overcome them that renders Him a source of strength to humanity.

On the one hand we do not get any benefit from one who has never felt the urge that we have felt, the propensity to evil; on the other hand we do not get any help if he has yielded to it.

The fact that another man has felt the same temptations that we have makes him an inheritor of our common lot, gives us for him a fellow feeling; but we must remember that he is of no assistance to us unless he has successfully combatted these temptations.

There are many examples of those who have gone wrong, who have yielded to the same attacks that are made upon us, but there are few examples of those who have successfully resisted them.

We all know how to yield. We all do not know how to resist. And the power to resist is what we most desire.

Horoscope

Astrologers read this as rather an unfortunate day, for Uranus and Neptune are both strongly adverse in their rule, which is not offset by kindly stars.

It is not a lucky day for removals or for setting out on travels, for many obstructions may be met.

There may be at this time influences that are most unfavorable for inventions, of every sort and aviation will suffer from enemies who seek to retard its progress.

Neptune is in a place making for much doubledealing and deception in love as well as in business affairs.

This is not a good day for making sea trips of any sort, for storms threaten.

Again the navy may be called into action, for the world will not be inclined to peace.

The Moon enters Libra, an airy masculine sign, which governs may channels of justice and should make for constructive plans.

Paralleling Uranus until nearly 11 o'clock there should be an urge toward intense activity.

New ideas for improvement or progress may develop at this time when the mind may be unusually keen.

Speculation is not well directed and should be avoided, even though propositions may appear more than commonly promising.

It is forecast that both men and women may be strongly inclined to vagaries and for this reason it is well to safeguard the mind from all unwholesome ideas.

There is the foreshadowing of continued use of narcotics, and law enforcement may bring about new problems.

Minor business annoyances may be common during this month in which trade conditions should improve.

International difficulties will disturb Europe and find an echo in this country, for evil influences will be strong where human relations are concerned.

Persons whose birthdate it is may have rather a troublesome year and they should be exceedingly cautious about making changes.

DESCRIPTION OF SPRING

The scote season, that bud and bloom forth brings,
With green hath clad the hill and eke the vale;
The nightingale with feathers new she sings;
The turtle to her mate hath told her tale.

Summer is come, for every spray now springs;
The hart hath hung his old head on the pale;

The buck in brake his winter coat he flings;
The fishes mete with new repaired scale.

The adder all her slough away she slings;
The swift swallow pursueth the flies' smile;

The busy bee her honey now she mings;
Winter is worn that was the fowls' bale.

And thus I see among these pleasant things
Each care decays, and yet my sorrow springs.

The Best of Advice

By CLARK KINNARD

The good gentlemen who are busy preaching the supremacy of the Nordics should mull over this bit:

"The differences between one nation and another, whether in intellect, commerce, art, morals, or general temperament, ultimately depend, not on any mysterious properties of race, nationality, or other unknown and unintelligible factors, but simply and solely upon the physical circumstances to which they are exposed."

Grant Allen, who made the observation some years ago, reasoned that it is a fact, as we know it to be, that the French nation differs recognizably from the Chinese, and the people of Hamburg differ recognizably from the people of Timbuctoo, then the notorious and conspicuous differences between them are wholly due to the geographical position of the various races.

In other words, if the people who went to Hamburg had gone to Timbuctoo, they would now be indistinguishable from the semi-barbarian negroes who inhabit that African metropolis; and if the people who went to Timbuctoo had gone to Hamburg, they would now be blonde merchants, busy preparing imitation whiskeys and wines for the American bootleg trade.

"The differentiating agency must be sought in the great permanent geographical features of land and sea," Allen argued. "These have necessarily and inevitably moulded the characters and histories of every nation upon the earth."

"We cannot regard any nation as an active agent in differentiating itself. Only the surrounding circumstances have any effect in such a direction. To suppose otherwise is to suppose that the mind of man is exempt from the universal law of causation."

"There is no caprice, no spontaneous impulse, in human endeavors. Even tastes and inclinations must themselves be the result of surrounding causes."

However, this view is open to attack. Naturalists know well enough how indeterminate the harmonies between a fauna and its environment are. An animal may better his chances of existence in either of many ways—growing aquatic, arboreal, or subterranean; small and swift, or massive and bulky; spiny, horny, slimy, or venomous; more cunning or more fertile of offspring; more gregarious or more solitary; or in other ways besides—and any one of these ways may suit him to many widely different environments.

With the entry of the French into the war in Morocco, the combat assumes a character only vaguely suggested by the attempts of the Spaniards to vanquish the same enemy further north. There the struggle seemed to be between two kinds of antiquities. Here it is the decisive battle, par excellence, between civilization and barbarism—between a modern Caesar and a modern Verdingetorix.

The greatest soldier-proconsul France has ever sent forth is pitted against the most intelligent of modern barbarians, Abdel-Krim. Marshal Lyautey is 70 years old. Except for the brief period when he went to Paris to take the war portfolio in the Briand cabinet in December, 1916, and then caused that cabinet to fall a few months later, when he left, a prophet of "defeatism," not without subsequent honor, he has practically given a long life to the colonial service of France.

Tongking, Algeria, and Madagascar were the fields of his study and experience—in Madagascar with that old strategist, Gallieni, who, as military governor of Paris, in September, 1914, offered decisive diversion to the German Von Kluck. Save for the interregnum already mentioned he has been resident general of the French zone of Morocco since April 23, 1912, just seven months before his country and Spain settled the area of their respective territories.

Spanish high commissioners have come, been defeated and have gone, yet Lyautey has stayed on, making secure the occupation by France.

REV. CALDERWOOD DELIVERS SERMON

'Not My Will But Thine' Is Theme Taken By Pastor Of Local Church

"Not My Will But Thine" was the subject of the sermon delivered yesterday morning by Rev. C. M. Calderwood, pastor of Central Avenue Methodist church. He said: "Man often performs the seemingly impossible. He concentrates all of his energies and his will power on one thing and he gets it. Man sometimes prays to God to help him or to permit him to have or to do certain thing. God recognizes the will of man and comes to his assistance. Sometimes God permits us to do evil though he does not desire us to do it. Baalam prayed to God that he might go. God told him not to go. Baalam continued to pray to God that he might go. Finally God told Baalam to go but he was angry because he was not permitted to go. God gave the children of Israel their request, but sent leanness into their soul. Many things that we are determined to do, God will let us do. He grants our desires when those desires are not his desires for us. We pray earnestly for certain things but we do not correct our petition by God's will for us. "Our task in life is not to get what we want but to learn God's will for us and then get it. God sometimes suffers men to destroy themselves, to lose their own souls although he knows it is ruinous. God often withholds the fatal gift that we desire. He may disregard our petulant clamor. He may tell us that what we want is not for our good. He may show us that desiring this one thing is childish. "Difficulties are thrown in our way. We are prevented for a long time from getting it. But God does not force man's will. And often we are given the object that we have insisted upon. It is not God's will that we have the thing, but it is His will sometimes that we have our way. It is the only way that He can teach us. We must learn to unite the great power of our wills with the will of the Almighty. We can easily learn His will if we ask Him."

HOLY GHOST TEXT SERVES REV. KLINE

Central Avenue Methodists' Pastor Speaks Sunday On 'Final Proof'

Rev. Leo C. Kline, pastor of Central Avenue Methodist church delivered a sermon yesterday morning on the "Final Proof," taking his text from Acts 1:8 "Ye shall receive power after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you," saying: "We have for centuries celebrated the birthday of Christ and also the day of His resurrection. Today is recognized by a comparatively few Christians as Pentecost Sunday or as someone has said "The birthday of the Holy Spirit." The gift of the Holy Spirit is the final proof of God's purpose to redeem mankind through Jesus Christ. In the Old Testament we have the promise of the redeemer. In the new testament we have the record of His appearance. This fulfillment of prophecy is one proof of the claims of Jesus as redeemer. "A second line of proof is found in the words which He spoke. He spoke as one having authority. "Never man spoke like this man." He said, "I am the way, the truth and the life, no man cometh unto the father but by me." "Another proof lies in the things which He did. He healed the blind and the leper. He raised the dead and forgave sins. By these things He gave proof of His claim to Messiahship. Again the proof is found in the death which He died. He gave Himself willingly a ransom for many. He was not compelled to do so. "He loved mankind and delivered Himself up to be crucified for man's redemption. Yet another line of proof is found in the resurrection. Authenticated by well-founded testimony of many witnesses. If Christ be not raised from the dead then is our faith in vain, we are yet in our sins. The final proof is found in the outpouring of the Holy Spirit in fulfillment of the words of Jesus. And the spirit in the heart of the believer is the final testimony of God to the souls' redemption and the truth as it is found in the person of Christ."

BANQUET POSTPONED
Rev. Maurice M. Johnson, pastor of Broadway Methodist church, South, announces that the visitation campaign banquet planned for tonight at his church has been postponed until next Monday night in order that his congregation might attend the Bible conference conducted by Dr. C. Campbell Morgan of London, Eng., at Glendale Presbyterian church. Rev. Johnson also wishes to announce that the fellowship supper and community Bible class will be held as usual Thursday night at the church.

LUTHERANS HEAR 'PENTECOST' TEXT

Celebration of Spirit Taken As Theme For Sermon By Rev. Kringel

Pentecost services were observed by the Zion Lutheran congregation yesterday morning. Rev. Henry O. Kringel, pastor, spoke on "Pentecost." The choir under direction of M. D. Stecher rendered two anthems. Rev. Kringel said: "I believe in the Holy Ghost. That was our confession a few moments ago when in unison we recited the creed; nor is there a reason, when we repeat those words with more special emphasis than on this morning, Pentecost—the celebration of the spirit. "Pentecost commemorates an important event in our Christian history. The event is the descent of the holy spirit of God upon the first disciples at Jerusalem, the fulfillment to them, ten days after Christ's ascension, of His promise that they should receive power for their life's work by the coming of the holy ghost upon them. And so it was they were miraculously endowed with gifts of mind and of speech and with the power to perform supernatural things, such as healing the sick, raising the dead. "But a doctrine embodied in this glorious event. It is this: 'I believe in the holy ghost,' namely I believe that there is such a person, and that He still dwells in all Christian hearts and works within them, which work we can embody in this sentence: 'He has called me by the gospel, enlightened me with His gifts, sanctified and kept me in the true faith.' "So that this day was significant not only for those original disciples but for all Christians, for it calls to our remembrance the gracious and powerful operation, which the holy spirit carries on in the heart of every believing disciple of Christ in all ages and climes. "It is also instructive to notice that the work of the spirit of God is spoken of in the Bible under the figure of the three active elements in nature, namely, wind, water and fire. In our Lord's conversation with Nicodemus He said: 'The wind bloweth where it listeth and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh and whither it goeth. So is everyone that is born of the spirit.' "Samaritan Woman "In His conversation with the samaritan woman He compared it with water. The chapter of Pentecost speaks of tongues of fire, and also in the heart of every man made to that element. Very properly so, for what is the action of fire? Fire destroys, consumes, burns up. No less the spirit, entering the human heart, He destroys, consumes, burns up the inward dross of our sins and corruptions. Fire refines. So the spirit refines, purifies, sanctifies. Fire produces light and warmth. "The spirit enlightens our minds and warms our hearts. Fire penetrates. So does the spirit penetrate men's hearts with His divine influences, when hearing the precious word of God. Therefore, let us not quench the spirit within us. His dwelling in the hearts of believers means life, light, peace, consolation, salvation and heaven."

Bible Class Teacher Talks At Grand View

Rev. Reaugh, teacher of the adult Bible class of Grand View Community church preached yesterday at Grand View church on the subject "Building a Life." Rev. Reaugh has been a Sunday school missionary and has devoted a great deal of time to organizing Sunday schools. Rev. George W. Thomas was not present at the services as he went with Glendale scout executives to visit the summer camp sites in the San Bernardino mountains. Rev. Thomas conducted services for the scout leaders yesterday morning.

'Y' Workers Leave To Attend Conference

Rex C. Kelley and H. Park Arnold of Glendale left last night for Estes Park, Col., where they will attend the third general conference of boys' workers on the United States and foreign lands. The conference will open June 4 and continue until June 12. The assembly is called every three years, to discuss progress of work among youth throughout the land. Mr. Kelley, who is secretary of the Glendale Y. M. C. A., and Mr. Arnold, as a member of the board of directors, will be absent from the city until about June 25.

REV. HOGUE TO SPEAK
Rev. Joseph Hogue of Los Angeles Christian and Missionary Alliance will be the speaker Thursday at the monthly all-day meeting at Christian and Missionary Alliance church. Rev. Hogue will speak at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and again at the service at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. D. W. Rexroate will have charge of the service at 10 o'clock and Rev. R. H. Moon, pastor, will conduct the passover prayer league service at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. Rev. Moon announces that a fellowship luncheon will be served at 6 o'clock by women of the church.

DR. FUNK SPEAKS ON MEMORIAL DAY

First Lutheran Pastor Tells Of Homage Owing Dead Heroes of Wars

Dr. H. C. Funk, pastor of First Lutheran church delivered a sermon yesterday morning on the subject: "The Origin of Our Memorial Day," saying: "To be held in grateful memory is a most beautiful and the most enduring monument. Better than costly stones, better than pyramids or mausoleums that finally crumble and perish, are the memories of the deeds of benefactors who have gone before. You will remember how, in the time of the apostles, the disciples sent two men to Peter, who immediately returned with them to the upper room where the body of Dorcas lay, and the widows stood by him weeping, and showing the garments that Dorcas had made. Peter was moved with sympathy, and was instrumental in presenting Dorcas to them alive again. "Years of Massacre "For four long years of massacre and martyrdom our soldiers went out to battle for the right. Not only did they believe in our principles, but they suffered and died. Then sleep on, brave patriots, where in the city of the dead on this May Day flowers shall be strewn. But these flowers tell of vacant chairs, of sad homes, of broken hearts, of widows and orphans, of tears, of suffering and sorrow. And yet, by these tears that fall, the memory of our dead heroes is ever kept green. "It is interesting to note that the first post of the G. A. R. was organized at Decatur, Illinois, by Major B. F. Stephenson, on April 6, 1886; and also that its conception was suggested by a citizen of German birth. The second post was organized at Springfield, Illinois, on the 11th day of April in the same year. Out of this has come our national Decoration Day, observed on the 30th day of May because the last soldier of the Civil war was discharged on that day. It is most fitting that on this day we should scatter flowers upon the graves of these sleeping heroes of the past. "How they went forth to die! Counting their lives as the unvalued dust. Trod by a nation, bearing on its trust. Content if but their sunken graves should be The foot-prints of the progress of the free."

"And God forbid that we should wait until the white-haired veteran who remains shall have passed away, or until the young men who did valiant battle in the most terrible war the world has ever known shall become gray, before some recognition of his valor shall be shown. And let the soldier feel that the little pension he may receive is only a flower to cheer him on his way, to be accepted as a token of our gratitude for what he has done."

PASTOR TALKS ON 'LIFE OF CHURCH'

Rev. Kemp, St. Mark's, Tells Of Task Before Twelve Apostles

Rev. Philip K. Kemp, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal church preached yesterday morning on "Witness of the Holy Spirit in the Life of Church," saying: "The apostolic church was indeed a band of courageous men. Their Lord in whom they had trusted implicitly had been taken from them. He had returned to His heavenly sphere of action to return when they had fulfilled their mission. The task before them was a momentous one. They were called upon to preach a new gospel in the face of seeming failure and bitter opposition. Their own countrymen looked upon them as illiterate fanatics. They were indeed a bit fearful for following the ascension the thought must have haunted their minds that the Holy Spirit might not come. "Yet upon the day of Pentecost, which we celebrate today, as they were all gathered in one place God answered their prayer and they received the divine power to go forth as ministers of Christ. By the power of that divine spirit they were to go and bear witness of the life, death and resurrection of Jesus Christ and the Holy Spirit was to be with them and bear witness by the power of their life that Christ was with them as He had been since the beginning of His ministry. "Birthday of Church "Whitsunday is called the birthday of the Christian church and reminds us of the abiding presence of Christ in our work of building that kingdom not made with hands for which Jesus gave His life to establish the foundations. This kingdom is founded upon the conviction that Christianity is the good news about God given us through Jesus Christ. This good news is today being carried to all the world by the spirit of Jesus Christ in our lives. "God is just as much in the thick of the battle as when Jesus walked the earth in Galilee. He does not sit as a spectator while men struggle for the principles of life but is helping us at every angle of the conflict. The Holy Spirit is witness to the truth of this conviction. To believe in the power of the Holy Spirit is to bear witness to feeling that God is with us in our lives. This is not a new element in the religious life for God has been with man from the beginning. To the Jew God was always with His people and we find Jesus working under the Holy Spirit as that divine power which from His baptism made Him mighty in word and deed. "Spirit of Pentecost "This same spirit came to the Christians at Pentecost to assure them of the truth of their mission. It is this power of contact with God that has kept the strength of the Christian church in her life of fellowship with God. "We as the descendants of that apostolic church are called upon to be witnesses in our generation to that life of deliverance and salvation that Jesus brought to men. The Holy Spirit is our witness that we are not bearing witness to a delusion. Apart from any criticism that may be leveled at the church this stands supreme as our evidence of the reality of the Christian revelation. He is with us in all our acts of worship for no service or sacrament is complete without His presence. He is with us in all our activities for the development of man's physical intellectual or spiritual nature. As we are true to the revelation of God in Christ Jesus so the Holy Spirit is not in vain and that in each generation there will be fresh revelations of the truth of God."

"How they went forth to die! Counting their lives as the unvalued dust. Trod by a nation, bearing on its trust. Content if but their sunken graves should be The foot-prints of the progress of the free."

"And God forbid that we should wait until the white-haired veteran who remains shall have passed away, or until the young men who did valiant battle in the most terrible war the world has ever known shall become gray, before some recognition of his valor shall be shown. And let the soldier feel that the little pension he may receive is only a flower to cheer him on his way, to be accepted as a token of our gratitude for what he has done."

wells are getting deeper, one in the Eagle Rock valley being down about 450 feet as a test. This crude oil situation is cognizant to railroad officials who will replace oil burners, for a time at least, with coal mined in Colorado and Utah. Then will come the utmost in the development of hydro-electric energy. The farmers of the Imperial valley, and the townspeople as well, are actually aggravated over the dilatory proceedings by the federal government in the building of Boulder canyon dam for water conservation and power production. They also want an all-American canal for idle American acres, in the realization that each passing year sees more Mexican land, originally leased for cattle ranching, being cultivated at lesser costs, with the Colorado river water. That is a deep-rooted question for both state and national consideration and to date the situation sums itself in the following proposition: "Imperial Situation "Either the American land interests in Mexico lose their turn at the wheel of fortune, which now beams upon them, or American lands must lie undeveloped. "Too many acres of the Imperial valley now are not being farmed, it would appear from a cursory survey. Vegetable growers are reaping good returns, working night and day with their cantaloupes and watermelon crops, as well as other greens later than lettuce and asparagus which had an unusual season. There will be no water shortage in the Imperial valley this year, an actual flood impending within a month from the melting snows at the headwaters of Colorado's muddy stream. But cotton prices are not encouraging to planters and the valley is waiting for encouragement. "Reverting to the industrial situation, it is the payroll that makes the average merchant of Glendale and similar communities prosper. San Diego is not only going after factories, but it is establishing several notable enterprises with cheap sites, contented labor and the world vessels calling at its port for trade. Incidentally, San Diego is continuing to attract wealthy residents to its La Jolla, El Cajon and other suburbs with building resolutely steady. "Orange County "Santa Ana and Orange county are bidding for factories against Los Angeles and Long Beach. The development of $2,000,000 harbor at Newport beach, recommended by Major General Lansing H. Beach. The closing day of Anaheim Valencia show brings to light the industrial strides being made in agriculture, even the culls being profitably handled in a poor year. This will be, however, a very fair season for the grower, despite his midwinter losses. It is reported. At Beaumont the cherry celebration over the weekend revealed that a banner crop at good prices is being shipped, while the apple and other deciduous fruit trees in the San Jacinto foothills are loaded to a pruning point. Packing and shipping of dates from Coachella and Imperial valleys is taking more sizable proportions each year as new trees are brought into bloom. Speaking of harbors reminds the writer that Santa Barbara has opportunity to get a sea wall at "about half price" due to a $200,000 donation by a yachtman, which will make that city a port of call for larger vessels as well. Long Beach and Los Angeles also are uniting on a greater harbor scheme which will be all inclusive from Point Fermin to Seal Beach. Ventura county oil exports are increasing, much of the production being run east by tankers. "Industrial Phase "The industrial development of eastern Los Angeles, particularly, although its spread is to the San Fernando valley and harborward as well, would fill chapters, literally millions of dollars being poured into many projects. The southwestern metropolis' dominance of the film industry and rapid strides in building lines has given it a permanent lead over rivals, such as San Francisco and Oakland, but their records reflect credit on their civic leaders. Copper and other minerals are reaching their pre-war top price, and conditions in the metallurgical field are equally as alluring and promising in the southwest as ever before, save for a few specialties. This will affect San Bernardino, Riverside and Kern counties keenly, as well as Ari-

REALTORS TO ASK RULING REVERSED

Local Delegates To National Meet Will Insist Upon Own Independence

The Glendale Realty board will carry its fight for eternal independence to the floor of the national convention of real estate boards at Detroit this month through the personal appearance there of Peter Hanson, past president of the local board. During the national convention, June 23 to 26, the fight of California realty boards to retain their independence after annexation to a larger city, will be brought to a head. The controversy, supposedly settled for all time at the Dallas convention some months ago, was fanned again into flames by a recent order of the national directors, reversing the verdict rendered at the Dallas meeting, and ruling that boards in cities that annex to larger cities must cease to exist. "Retain Individuality "Glendale is only interested in the ruling to the extent that it affects this city. Under the law as interpreted by the national directors, the Glendale board must capitulate if this city ever becomes a part of Los Angeles, said Hanson today. "Whether a part of Los Angeles or an independent city, Glendale will always retain her individuality and her problems will always be distinct from those of Los Angeles. For this reason she should always be assured of an independent board to deal with those problems. To this end we will fight the ruling of the national board of directors." Hanson will go to the convention from Glendale along with William L. Truitt, official delegate from this city, according to present plans. He will attend the convention as an officer of the California Real Estate association.

Girl Victim Of Poison Buried In Forest Lawn

Following funeral services in the same undertaking chapel from which her sweetheart's last rites took place a short time before, Margaret Ferrier, Manila girl, was laid to rest in Forest Lawn Memorial park at 11 o'clock today. Miss Ferrier took poison after George William Lerri, automobile salesman, had read her diary. Lerri then committed suicide. Funeral services for both Miss Ferrier and Lerri took place at the chapel of Pierce Brothers, in Los Angeles, this morning. The body of the girl was brought to Glendale for burial. Lerri's remains will be shipped to Oakland.

Woman Shopper Hurt When Door Falls Down

Mrs. E. Crosland, 75 West Burckett street, believes it is bad luck to enter a grocery store just as it is being closed for the day. She received a scalp wound when a door fell on her head late Saturday as she was entering the store. Richard Stone, manager, was putting the overhead door in place to shut it, when it slipped from his grasp. The injured woman was taken to the Glendale hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Doner Leave For Nebraska

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Doner of 319 North Central avenue left this morning for a four weeks' trip that will take them for a visit to their former home, Falls City, Neb., and on to Chicago, Detroit, and Canada. They will visit relatives and friends. They will return to California by the northern route.

3 Rules for Shortcake

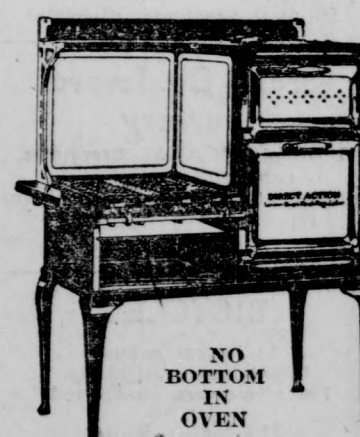

ANY woman can make perfect shortcake every time by following these three rules: Good Ingredients; Correct Mixing; Baking for an exact length of Time at an exact Temperature—in the Lorain Self-Regulating Oven of a Direct Action Gas Range.

DIRECT ACTION Gas Ranges

Simple lines, smooth surfaces and absence of ornaments make Direct Action Gas Ranges graceful in appearance and easy to keep clean. For better baking and economy of fuel, choose a Direct Action Gas Range. It is different. Ask to see the Direct Action "elastic" oven, and the broiler with the separate burner.

LORAIN
OVEN HEAT REGULATOR

The Lorain Oven Heat Regulator automatically maintains the heat of the oven at any exact temperature which the housewife may select, by the setting of a Red Wheel.

Why Not Look at Things As They Are ??

When a man who has suffered from myopia is fitted with glasses he becomes happier and more useful to himself and to those around him. He sees life through new eyes. What was blurred and indistinct before becomes bright and clear-cut. He reads clearly the message on the sign across the street. He sees the real glory of the distant hill tops, heretofore denied him. Perfect vision transforms him.

If we could all be fitted with glasses to make us see more clearly mentally, we should be of more value to the community. If there were some way to get us to look beyond our noses where our duty to Glendale is concerned we should be happier and the community richer.

When we think of out-of-town shopping expeditions do not matter, our vision is decidedly blurred. We have not seen clearly. We have not been able to read the signs that point to community prosperity and —because we are a part of the community—to our own prosperity. We have not seen the glory of the mountain tops which is the height toward which we, as a community, aspire, and which we may attain if we all work together.

The development of the community is in the hands of ALL the people. No city can be built up without money. Glendale is not asking your gifts—merely your business. Everyone spends money every day. No matter if what you have to spend is much or little, SPEND IT IN GLENDALE. We need it, not only we who are in business, but all of us. Help Glendale to grow by spending your money here.

Winner Of Gas Range At School Announced

The attendance at Coker and Taylor's school of cookery last Friday exceeded all expectations. Almost 200 women were present when Mrs. Jessie M. Shannessy demonstrated the Direct Action gas range. For years Mrs. Shannessy has been recognized as one of the best domestic science experts in Southern California, having conducted classes in Pasadena, San Diego, Whittier and other cities. At the close of the class a semi-porcelain Direct Action gas range was presented to Mrs. J. W. Moore, 3150 Glen Manor. The winning ticket was drawn from the large container by Little Florence Hoffman. The contest judges were Miss E. J. Hanson, head of the domestic science department of Glendale Union High school; Mrs. H. A. Anderson of Glendale Intermediate school, and Mrs. E. A. Baker of Wilson Intermediate school. During the demonstration Mrs. Shannessy baked three cakes and these were won by Mrs. R. R. Lander, 1265 Oakridge drive; Mrs. F. B. Storer, 312 East Lomita avenue and Mrs. G. Campbell, 409 West Lomita avenue. Fruit punch was served to those attending by Miss Norma Doyle.

Tribute Paid Heroes Of Land At Burbank

Girl Scouts of Burbank, under the direction of Miss Broughton, sang "America, the Beautiful." The principal address was given by E. F. Saunders. Rev. W. G. Cowan gave the benediction. The cooking school will be conducted by Mrs. Shannessy each Wednesday afternoon throughout the summer from 2 o'clock until 4 o'clock. An invitation is extended to everyone interested in cooking and kitchen problems.

Questionable Reading Made Target Of Drive

Questionable magazines now sold on news stands throughout Glendale will be the target in a campaign to be started at once by Chief of Police John D. Fraser, who announced today that he will ask the co-operation of all retail dealers in the city in stopping the sale of questionable literature. The district attorney will be asked to prosecute under the state law prohibiting sale of obscene literature if sale of the magazines continues, it was declared. Chief Fraser has in his possession a list of eleven magazines which have been placed in the questionable class by investigators from local service clubs and welfare organizations. "The fact that the magazines fall largely into the hands of young people of Glendale, youths and girls attending school, makes it imperative that some action be taken at once," declared Chief Fraser. "I am sure that the police authorities can depend upon the co-operation of the retail magazine dealers of Glendale."

Dr. Widmeyer Preaches At Nazarene Services

Dr. C. B. Widmeyer preached yesterday morning at First Church of the Nazarene, 417 East Acacia avenue, the service being held in the interest of the Pasadena Nazarene college. Short talks were also given by students of the college. Rev. H. A. Scheide-man, pastor, preached yesterday afternoon taking as his subject, "Christian Warfare" with a text from 1 Kings 20:11. Musical numbers were furnished at both services by a women's quartet from Pasadena Nazarene college. Doty L. Anderson sang at the afternoon service. The Young People's service was conducted by a group of young people from the California Christian college at Hollywood under the leadership of Miss Sharp. Miss Florence Wyse, student of the Hollywood college sang.

BASSO TO SING
Franz Hoffman of Holland, basso, will be presented by Mrs. E. W. Zimney as one of the featured artists tomorrow at the annual luncheon of the music department of the Tuesday Afternoon club. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Hernando C. Lee Beckert. Mrs. Enona Hopkins has arranged the program for the luncheon.

MOTORIST HURT
Edward Bower, Long Beach, was slightly injured early yesterday when two automobiles collided at Broadway and San Fernando road. He was treated at the Glendale hospital for cuts and bruises. A machine driven by E. E. Hall, 1009 Anaheim street, Long Beach, crashed into a car driven by T. M. Satterfield, 4174 Verdant avenue, Los Angeles, that was stalled in the intersection. Bower, a passenger in the Hall machine, was cut by flying glass. PROSPECTS IN SHALE
A Swedish concern is preparing to work 24,000 acres of shale area in Esthonia and hopes to produce 500,000 metric tons of shale each year.

Diet and Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

DO YOU DARE?

"The thing itself is an exaggeration of nastiness which cannot be outdone." This is the sentence in which Charles Dickens, in his American notes—written some 80 years ago, after a visit to the United States—sums up a description of what he evidently regarded as an American custom—that of public spitting.

There undoubtedly has been an improvement in our public manners since Dickens' time. However, the spitting habit is still distasteful to many. Aside from the fact that it is an extremely offensive procedure to others, spitting on floors and sidewalks is a danger to public health. Mouths and nasal passages contain a great many germs. Most of them are harmless, but occasionally there are the germs of acute colds, influenza, pneumonia, diphtheria, tuberculosis and other diseases, and if these germs get into the air passages of susceptible people, they can produce disease.

We know that sunlight and drying soon kill off disease germs, but germs deposited in dark and damp places will live for several months. Scientists differ as to the extent of the danger from expectorated disease germs being blown about in dust, but they do not differ on the question of young children being exposed to very serious dangers from the practice of public expectorating especially when they play on floors and sidewalks and grass plots.

There are anti-spitting ordinances in every city, but it is difficult to enforce them. I don't know what we are going to do about it. I am going to suggest something, and if we all would practice it I think the habit would soon be stopped. It is this: When you see a person spitting on the sidewalks or on the floor of any public place, say very gently: "Don't you know that is dangerous to others, and is against the law?" This requires courage. Do you dare?

My public health spirit has made me do that occasionally in flagrant cases. I remember once venturing that remark to a big burly fellow swathed in a muffler, who was walking ahead of me on the street. When he turned and I saw a ferocious looking colored gentleman, I was really frightened for a minute. But with the most generous of smiles, showing a row of beautiful teeth, he apologized: "You're right, lady. I reckon I was kinda careless-like."

Newer Knowledge Concerning Teeth

It used to be thought that the enamel and dentine of the teeth after they were completely developed, were finished for life and that they could not be influenced in any way by diet.

Now many authorities and dental practitioners believe and have evidence to prove that proper diet combined with thorough mastication can improve the enamel and dentine of adults' teeth.

To preserve the vitality of the teeth and the surrounding tissues, adults must continue to use freely the foods that have proven so necessary for growth and development of children; that is, foods that contain the necessary vitamins and mineral elements—milk, raw fruits and vegetables, and the raw fruits and vegetables not only furnish the vitamins and mineral elements, but they have a natural cleansing and polishing effect on the teeth.

And every meal should contain some hard foods that require thorough mastication.

The daily cleaning of the teeth, at least in the morning and before retiring, and the regular bi-yearly visits to the dentist to catch the cavities while they are young, and to give a thorough polishing and cleansing are, as we all know, also necessary for the proper care of the teeth.

Fraternity Party

The J. W. Lawson home, 1663 Grand View avenue, provided the attractive setting Saturday night for a dancing and swimming party given by the Sigma fraternity of Occidental college. Dancing was enjoyed on the tennis court, colorfully lighted with Japanese lanterns. Sol Hoppe and his Hawaiian orchestra, were seated on a platform, surrounded by palms. These musicians played and sang. At 11:30 o'clock swimming was the diversion, with favors of doll bathing bags being awarded the young women. Later a buffet supper was served. Among the seventy guests were several from Stanford and Berkeley.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack McAteer, daughter Mae and son Richard of 519 Riverdale avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Roberts of 617 East Elk avenue, enjoyed a holiday outing at the Moore cabin at Big Bear Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Clem Moore and daughter Blossom of 350 West California avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Roberts of 617 East Elk avenue, enjoyed a holiday outing at the Moore cabin at Big Bear Lake.

Miss Elsie Jensen of 341 Myrtle street, entertained a party of relatives and friends at La Jolla over the week-end. In the party were: Mr. and Mrs. J. Carl Wilson of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Schwiager of Hill, Iowa.

Mrs. E. W. Gilliland of 415 East Stocker street, who has been visiting her parents and other relatives at Kingman, Prescott and Jerome, Arizona, returned to Glendale Friday. She was gone three weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Gilliland spent Sunday in Ventura county.

Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Eckles of 328 North Orange street returned Friday from a motor trip to San Diego, where they spent the past week attending the convention of the Lions' club. They returned by way of Elsinore and Wildomar, where they called at the homes of W. S. Corwin and John Dean, former residents of Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hardey of 215 West Los Feliz road are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. John H. Seaman of Middletown, Ohio. Mr. Seaman is a son of Mrs. Hardey and is a member of Antioch Temple, Dayton, Ohio, and came to California with the Ohio delegation of Shriner. The Seaman family are former Glendale residents.

Mrs. H. Montague Porter of 1343 East Harvard street, is to spend the next two weeks in Los Angeles, as guest at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. F. S. Hardin. Mrs. Porter will have as her guest Miss Mayme Bunch of Beverly Hills. They are planning to attend several Shrine affairs and numerous other social events.

Luncheon Today

Mrs. Robert A. Blackburn, longtime resident of Glendale, and prominent in local club affairs, who is now residing at Chatsworth, and Mrs. H. E. Bartlett presided today over the luncheon of the Past Presidents' club of the Tuesday Afternoon club at the clubhouse. Mrs. Blackburn was made president of the club when it was organized two years ago, serving with Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, who was named secretary-treasurer and who was acting president last year.

After the luncheon hour members and guests enjoyed hearing Mrs. Mattison Boyd Jones recite incidents of her foreign travels. Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson entertained with a talk on what the future holds for past presidents. Mrs. Blackburn greeted Mrs. Daniel Campbell, junior past president of the club. Mrs. H. E. Bartlett read a letter from Mrs. William W. Ramsay, a club member, now in the Yosemite valley. Election of officers followed.

Past presidents present were Mesdames R. A. Blackburn, Mattison Boyd Jones, H. E. Bartlett, C. E. Hutchinson, Daniel Campbell. Guests were Mesdames J. M. Banker, A. W. Tower, Frederick Baker, David Black, Lee Clotworthy, Halie Stamps, Oliver Clark, C. W. Houston, A. H. Montgomery.

Hear Don Tyler

Daughters of 1812 of California lunched Friday at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. Following the luncheon hour, Don Tyler, winner last year of the national oratorical contest on the federal constitution, spoke, and officers were presented. The luncheon table was most attractive. The centerpiece was a ship, decorated in blue and gray, colors of the organization. Floral decorations were blue cornflowers and dusty miller, furnished by Mrs. E. H. Botsford, a guest. Blue and gray ribbons ran the length of the table, with blue bon bon baskets and tiny American flags on standards at the places. Officers introduced are Mrs. A. M. Johnson, state president; Mrs. T. D. Bridgman, first vice-president; Mrs. William Empe, second vice-president; Mrs. R. G. Rhodes, recording secretary; Mrs. E. R. Odell, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. P. Gibson, treasurer; Mrs. F. A. Brown, registrar; Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, historian.

For Mrs. Wright

Mrs. H. T. Wright, chairman of co-operation with ex-service men and women for Los Angeles district, California Federation of Women's clubs, will be honored at a luncheon Thursday at Mira Mar hotel, Santa Monica. The luncheon arrangements are in charge of Mrs. E. W. Gilliland, chairman of co-operation with ex-service men and women for Tuesday Afternoon club, and Mrs. J. Westervelt of Santa Monica, substitute chairman. The luncheon is being given by all chairmen of the Los Angeles district.

Surprise Honor

Harley B. Yake, president of the Live Cole class of Central Christian church, was given a surprise birthday party Friday night at his home, 514 Fischer street. The party was given by members of the class, forty-two members being present. Games were played during the evening, and refreshments of ice cream and cake served. Mr. Yake was presented with a class pin by Fred Thompson, class teacher, as a gift from the class.

Party for Class

Mr. and Mrs. D. Ripley Jackson of 1544 Virginia avenue opened their home Friday night to the members of the A-8-4 section of the graduating class of Glendale Intermediate school for their annual class party. The rooms of the Jackson home were beautifully decorated with the season's flowers and the school colors, orange and black, emphasized by festoons of crepe paper. Many jolly games were played, including a "mock" airplane ride, winkum and others. First prize for the solution of an intricate word puzzle was won by Miss Jennie Lacy and Glenn Henderson, and second, Miss Gladys Sharpe and Howard Crizer.

The host, D. Ripley Jackson, added greatly to the evening's pleasure by singing "That Irish Mother of Mine" and other songs, with accompaniment by Miss Gladys Sharpe. After a delicious supper was served the young people closed the delightful evening by singing old songs, selections from the operetta "Toreadors" and as a closing number, the new school song, "All Hail, Glendale."

Open Mite Boxes

The annual mite box opening of the Women's Home Missionary society of First Methodist Episcopal church, was held Friday afternoon at the church. Mrs. S. J. Lookabaugh, general secretary, had charge of the program, and opening of the boxes, which netted the sum of $147.78. The money will be used for the building fund of the David and Margaret Home at LaVerne. The program included a solo by Mrs. P. S. McKee and Mrs. Forrester as accompanist; readings by Mrs. Lydia Rehberg, Mrs. A. G. Evans and Mrs. Anna Dieffenbach and a mite box demonstration entitled "Shaken," presented by Mesdames L. L. Woods and B. F. Geiger. Lunch and wafers were served following the program.

Annual Luncheon

The annual luncheon of the Music department of Tuesday Afternoon club will take place at 12:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the clubhouse, Mrs. Robert T. Young, curator, will preside. Mrs. Warren Roberts has arranged the affair, with Mrs. Eunice Hopkins in charge of the program.

Oklahoma Club

A meeting of the Oklahoma Past Grand Matrons and Matrons, Order of Eastern Star club of Southern California, was held recently at the home of Mrs. Osa Bruss, 232 North Central avenue. Mrs. W. O. Deason of Glendale, president, directed the business meeting, when Mrs. Sarah Sloat was admitted to membership. Letters from Mrs. May P. Merrill and Mrs. Miles of Long Beach, and members of the club, who were unable to be present, were read. After the business meeting the afternoon was spent in reminiscences of former associations in Oklahoma. The club was recently organized in Southern California to advance the Order of Eastern Star. The next meeting will be held July 3 at the home of Mrs. Sarah Sloat, 612 West Doran street. Mrs. Deason assisted Mrs. Bruss in serving refreshments. Those present were: Mesdames Rhoda Hunter, Lina Peppers of Hollywood, Sarah Morris, Florence Stumpff, Virgil Sutton, Bertha Gadd and Lula England all of Los Angeles; Anna Blackstone of Santa Ana; W. O. Deason, Sarah Sloat, Osa Bruss, all of Glendale. Mrs. Deason has requested that anyone qualified, who wishes to join the club, communicate with her by telephoning Glendale 1546-W.

For Miss Howe

Complimenting Miss Dorothy Howe, whose marriage to Keene Thomas of Glendale, will take place this month, Miss Doris Howe entertained Friday night with a miscellaneous shower at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Howe, 211 East Laurel street. Miss Howe was the recipient of many pretty and useful gifts. Refreshments were served by the hostess. Those present were: Misses Dorothy and Doris Howe, Aleta Hofsteter, Janice West, Leona Hibbert, Eithan Thomas, Irma Bradshaw, Julia Steelman, Ruth Clark and Elsie Gould. Mesdames J. C. Thomas, B. F. Richardson, J. W. Gould, Edward Moniot, Frank Thomas, Jack Hull, Roy Thomas, Lily Morrow, James Thomas, Mary Price, Anna Jarrett and Daisy Cummings, the latter two of Los Angeles.

Home-Stayed Peppers

The following recipe will stuff eight green sweet peppers: Mix together one cup of boiled rice, one cup of broth or left-over meat gravy thinned, one cup of cooked ham, two tablespoons of softened butter, one cup of diced uncooked celery, a little chopped parsley if you have it, one-half teaspoon of salt, one medium sized raw onion finely chopped, and either one large fresh tomato cut small, or one-half cup of the more solid parts of canned tomato. Cut the eight peppers in half lengthwise, remove seeds, and parboil in water to cover—that is simmer about ten minutes; drain off this water and stuff the sixteen halves. Top each with buttered bread crumbs and bake in a hot oven for fifteen minutes. This dish will be useful for the meat dish on Thursday evening; the housekeeper will find it an economy of labor to broil more sliced ham than she needs for breakfast on Wednesday morning so as to have a cupful of ham left-overs next day.

Eggplant a la Marie: Boil an eggplant for fifteen minutes in salted water to cover, then cut a slice from its top and scoop out its pulp. Chop this pulp and drain off a little of its moisture. Now two tablespoons of butter in a saucepan, rub two tablespoons of flour into it, add a pinch of salt, and stir in three-quarters of a cup of sweet milk; when it comes to the boiling point, add one cup of pulp of cooked and drained spaghetti and one cup of cooked green peas, then add almost all of the pulp which you previously removed from the inside of the eggplant. Restuff the vegetable-shell with this, pile buttered crumbs on top and lay slices of uncooked bacon over the crumbs. Bake for twenty minutes in a hot oven, on a greased pan. Serve hot.

Cheese "Pudding" Supper Dish: This is to be served Sunday night. Beat one egg yolk with one cup of granulated sugar; add one pound of mild American cheese which has been very finely chopped by hand or put through a food chopper. Also add two tablespoons of flour sifted with one tablespoon of baking powder, one large or two small cooked and mashed white potatoes, one-half cup of seedless raisins, and the grated rind of one small lemon. Last, fold in the stiffly-whipped white of one egg. Bake in a moderate oven for one hour and serve hot.

ANTISEPTIC POWDER PUFFS

A long time ago we did away with such germ carriers as the public roller towel and the public drinking cup, to the great benefit of the community. There should be a campaign now against having powder and rouge puffs for common use in the dressing rooms of hotels and dancing places. To be sure it is not as serious a danger as the drinking cup and roller towel one was compelled to use, but it is a serious danger nevertheless. Many hotels provide individual puffs of absorbent cotton, but as absorbent powder does not spread powder very well they are not used. If you watch, you will find a surprising number of women rub over their skins with a powder puff that must have been used by at least fifty people before them, use rouge the same way and even utilize the lipstick and other hotels spread in profusion over the dressing tables.

If you use powdered rouge (as most women do these days) carry compact case containing it wherever you go, so that if you retouch your complexion you can do so without risk of skin infection. And never by any chance use another person's powder puff, not even if it belongs to a member of your own family. It is like using another's tooth brush or hair brush.

Never use a powder puff when it is soiled. If you buy the flat kind called lambs wool puffs you can easily wash them by squeezing them for a moment in hot water and soap flakes. They should be washed every day or so, and if you have any skin trouble or skin eruptions they should not only be washed in hot water, they should be rinsed in strong antiseptic water, so you will actually do the skin good by using them. I suggest soaking them in strong hot boracic water; the boracic will dry into the puff and make the skin cool, clean and germ free.

BUD TAYLOR AND M'LARNIN BATTLE

Man Who Has Beaten Many Champions To Appear In Vernon Ring

Bud Taylor has beaten more champions and ex-champions, probably, than any other boxer in the country. Here's his tab: Pancho Villa, flyweight champion, two newspaper decisions; Frankie Genaro, American flyweight champion, no decision; Charley Phil Rosenberg, won decision in twelve rounds, New York; Abe Goldstein, won decision in ten rounds, New York.

Rosenberg is the present bantam champion. Goldstein is an ex-bantam champion. Chicago fans, who claim Taylor as much as Terre Haute, his real home town, predict that Bud will win the bantam crown before another year ends. That is, if Rosenberg will take the match. Goldstein beat Joe Burman, just after Joe Lynch had dodged a scheduled battle with him.

Taylor and Rosenberg boxed the semi-windup on that card. Bud broke his right hand in the fourth round and had to win with a left from then on, which the judges agreed he did. When Taylor boxes Jimmy McLarnin at Vernon Tuesday night, both his right and left hands will be commissioned to perform—and he will likely need them.

FRY'S PHYSICAL FACTS

By PROF. BYRON G. FRY, Health Expert and Champion Bag Fencer of America.

Written For The Evening News
SPT—Pickup FRY'S FACTS stk hd XXXVI—Monkeying Around
News dispatches from Paris tell of plans to establish the world's first ape village. The plans call for apes to be captured when young, educate them to the level of human beings, and by inoculating them with various serums, to try to discover the precise cause of cancer, tuberculosis, infantile paralysis and a host of other scourges that have, so far, baffled medical science.

For the person of limited means who wants good health, and cannot go to Africa, or purchase a flock of apes and monkeys to experiment on or wait for Pasteur's followers to discover a serum that will render a human being disease proof when he is trying to live a healthy, normal life on food that would kill an ape or monkey, if the ape or monkey tried to live on it, why, here are a few facts that might furnish enough material for thought, that, perhaps may relieve the minds of people who fear disease.

The apes know what kind and how much food to eat, as well as how much to chew or masticate it. They cannot live on cooked food, they contract diseases the same as human beings who try to live on cooked food. Monkeys and apes living on their natural diet of vegetables and fruits have nearly white teeth. They do not have to use a toothbrush. Their teeth become loose and discolored after eating cooked food for a few weeks. They very quickly lose their pep and activity when fed cooked food.

Cancer has been and is being cured every day by the proper use of fruit diets. Cancer is a dumping ground for the impurities flowing in the blood stream. A pure blood stream has little or no rubbish to dump into a bruised or inflamed part of the body. Inflammation or bruises very quickly heal, when the blood is pure.

Legion Players Drop Their Initial Start

Playing their first game in the Greater Managers' association, the Glendale American Legion post took the short end of Sunday's game at Monterey Park by a 6 to 2 score. Playing on a rough field, the service lads could not hit their real stride until a six-run lead had been scored in the first two innings. After the second frame no further scoring was done by either side.

Unorthodox

AL SIMMONS, Athletics' centerfielder, still 'puts his foot in the water bucket,' but he hits 'em just the same.

SPORT CHATTER

It was a busy week-end in the sport world. Records were shattered at Indianapolis where Peter De Paolo on the 500-mile annual classic; a new light heavyweight champion was crowned; U. S. C. track and field stars brought home the bacon; the heavyweight wrestling title is in another tangle, and numerous other things happened.

De Paolo toiled his Duesenberg car across the finish line at Indianapolis first, setting a new mark of 101.13 miles per hour for the 500-mile grind. In second place was Dave Lewis' front-drive Miller Special, alternately driven by Lewis and Benny Hill. The Shaffer-Morton team was third. Harry Hartz was fourth. Tommy Milton finished fifth. Leon Duray came in sixth. Ralph DePalma landed seventh place. Kries copped eighth position. Dr. Shattuck, the Louisville medic who turned race driver, got ninth place, and Bordino finished with in the money in tenth place.

Paul Berlenbach, the "Punching Paul" of old, slugged his way to victory over Mike McTigue, holder of the light heavyweight title, and the crown changed hands. The bout was held in the Yankee Stadium Saturday night. Mike made a last round bid for honors, but could not overcome Berlenbach's lead.

Once more the L. C. A. A. A. championship rests in California, following the action of Dean Cromwell's track and field stars in amassing 32 points at Philadelphia in the finals Saturday. Princeton was second with 29½; Yale third with 26½; Georgetown fourth with 23; Pennsylvania fifth with 22; California sixth with 17. Bud Houser set a new intercollegiate discus record of 150 feet 2¼ inches.

It's going to take a Philadelphia lawyer to figure out who is the world's champion wrestler. Wayne Nunn claimed it when he threw Strangler Lewis in Kansas City several months ago. Then along came Stanislaus Zysko, who tossed over Nunn, Saturday at St. Louis. Joe Stecher mugged by Zysko, while at Michigan City, Lewis took two of three falls from Nunn. Lewis claimed he did not lose the title to Nunn, but since he has thrown Nunn, he's got it back, or words to that effect. Figure it out yourself.

At Seattle, where the Pacific Coast conference intercollegiate meet was held, Stanford won with 63½ points.

RED SOX WIN

The Yanks postponed their daily defeat until the twelfth but class will tell. The Red Sox finally got to Shawkey for the runs and the decision 9 to 6.

BABE RUTH PLAYS WITH YANK TEAM

Sultan Of Swat Makes His First Appearance Of Season Today

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.
NEW YORK, June 1.—No longer an ex-brewer about the waistline nor a piano mover at the shoulders, our Mr. Ruth will resume the business of baseball this afternoon after seven weeks in the hospital and seven days on the beach. He will play right field for the Yanks against the Champion Senators and all New York, perforce, is looking for an exhibition of parlor magic that will transform the Yankees from a rabbit into a rattlesnake.

It probably will not be. Ruth is not the man he will be later in the season. He still is too weak and underweight and cannot take the old toe hold at the plate and get away with it. The doctors only acceded to Ruth's demands that he be allowed to play in order to rid himself of his querulous pleas for action. His return in fact is two weeks ahead of schedule and whether his premature appearance will cause a reaction later remains to be seen.

The fans will see a younger and leaner looking Ruth than has been their privilege for ten years. His succession to illness, culminating in his collapse at Asheville, N. C., on April 7, seemingly has had the effect of improving his general condition merely at the expense of eight weeks of absence from the Yanks.

Many blame the present position of the Yankees—a game and a half out of last play—on Ruth's absence; other contend that time, the great leveler, has been the abiding factor. Probably it has been a little of both.

The Yanks, in any case, are almost definitely out of the race and anything Ruth does for them must be for the better. The writer will be surprised if he hits the size of his collar for a week or more.

BASEBALL

The Glendale Letter Carriers had little opposition yesterday against the Santa Monica Postoffice workers. The local mailmen rolled up a score of about 16 to 3. Richards hurled for the locals, mowing 'em down almost at will. In the last inning Bush went into the box with success. Whitley worked behind the log.

It took twelve innings to decide the San Fernando-Saugus game at Saugus yesterday. San Fernando won in the twelfth, 6 to 5. Scott pitched for the winners, with Simpson pitching for Saugus.

The Shell Oilers set a new Pacific coast win record yesterday when they defeated the Pacific Electric crew, 13 to 5, making their string of unbroken victories twenty-nine.

Nettles, hurling for the Maywood team turned in a no-hit victory yesterday, while his teammates were getting sixteen hits and thirteen runs off Cleary's A. C.

HOMERS WIN GAME

Dizzy Vance fanned thirteen Giants, but overlooked Meusel in the sixth and Terry in the ninth, this being extremely ill-advised. Meusel singled home the first run and Terry produced the second with a homer. The Dodgers finishing second, 2 to 0. Scott didn't fan them, but he wouldn't let them score.

SENATORS VICTORS

Manager Harris made a personal matter of putting an end to the Athletics' rampage with a single off Bryan Harris in the ninth. The Senators won 4 to 3. Simmons kept the Athletics in the hunt with a triple and homer.

IRISH TIM WANTS TO SEE 'EM ALL

Chinese Theatre Doorkeeper To Seek Adventure After Ten Years' Labor

By EDNA MARSHALL

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925

NEW YORK, June 1.—It is a strange career sailor "Tim" O'Hara, tall, blonde, smiling and Irish from the tip of his toes to the crown of his head is planning for himself. For ten years he has been doorman of the old Chinatown theatre. And now he figures to depart to find work in a Japanese and then a Hindoo theatre.

A student of nationalities is Tim. He studies people of every race and every country. He will find his Japanese and Hindoo theatres here if he can—if not, he will voyage to the countries where they thrive to study the theatre and people who come there.

"There are no two peoples as exactly opposite as the Chinese and the Japanese, for all their apparent similarity," says Tim. "They have different ideas, different ideals, different arts, different recreations—different almost everything. That's why I want to work in a Japanese theatre. And then, perhaps, I'll be able to write a book comparing the Japanese and Chinese."

As for the Hindoos, Tim admits it is the mystery with which the country and people are shrouded, that makes him want to try a job in an Indian theatre.

Tim's History
Tim O'Hara got into Oriental theatricals through a fluke. Ten invitations to participate in the Jubilee celebration. General Elias Plutarco Calles, president of Mexico, tendered a formal invitation, stated that he would make every effort to be in San Francisco during the celebration. Many officials and governors of Mexican states are planning to accompany President Calles.

Salesman Reports He Found Man Washing

H. J. Cox, manager of the Maytag washing machine department of the Glendale Hardware Co., 601 East Broadway, in making calls upon prospective washing machine purchasers last week states that he found one man who has been doing the family wash. Whether he will be doing it from now on is a conjecture, says Mr. Cox, as a Maytag was sent out to his home Friday.

"If more men would do the family washing," says Mr. Cox, "there would be less friction in the home, and unquestionably a washing machine of some kind would be considered a necessity." The Maytag washer, according to Mr. Cox, is fast gaining in popularity as so many people are aware that the vacuum and cylinder type of washing machines are getting out of date and do not do the washing as quickly and as cleanly as the agitator type of a machine such as the Maytag.

MILK FUND TOTALS

NEW YORK, June 1.—Unofficial figures made public today showed that upward of 44,000 fans paid approximately $172,655 to see the milk fund bouts in which Mike McTigue was deprived of the world's light heavyweight title by Paul Berlenbach. According to present calculations the net proceeds will amount to about $65,000, which will be turned over to the fund.

HARTNETT HITS

Making merry with the deliveries of Kremer and Sheehan, the Cubs socked their way to a 11 to 2 decision over the Pirates, Hartnett getting a double, triple and a homer, his fourteenth of the season.

SHOW WOMAN MURDERED IN HOTEL

'Blonde Amazon' Sought As Killer Of Theatrical Wardrobe Mistress

BOSTON, June 1.—A tall blonde woman of such strikingly large proportions as to be known as "blonde Amazon" was being sought by police today in the brutal murder and robbery of Mrs. Mae Price, wardrobe mistress of a musical comedy show and known as the "mother of the chorus girls."

A former bell boy of the Hotel Hollis in which Mrs. Price was slain, told police that he had overheard "the blonde Amazon" and the murder victim in a bitter row several days before the latter's death.

The bell boy, John Regan, left the employ of the hotel, which is largely patronized by theatrical folk, a few days after the arrival of Mrs. Price and other members of the company.

Today he heard of the murder and promptly recalled the row he had overheard in the room occupied by Mrs. Price. Regan at once went to the hotel and told his story.

Several other women were accompanying Mrs. Price, according to the bell boy. These were apparently members of the company which failed and disbanded. Of them, "the blonde Amazon" is regarded as the only suspicious person in the case.

Tall and well proportioned, she was a woman who would attract attention anywhere.

CHINESE MUTINY

LONDON, June 1.—Six hundred Chinese soldiers at Hung-Hai mutinied, murdered officers and plundered the barracks, according to a Central News despatch from Hong Kong today. A few officers were reported to have escaped. Assisted by police they rounded up sixty of the mutineers.

BANK LOOTED

CHICAGO, June 1.—Five bandits today held up the Baker Street bank at Cicero, a suburb, cowed a half dozen employees with guns and escaped with all the money and checks in sight. The amount of the loot, bank officials could not be determined until after a check-up.

Glendale Plans Big Welcome To Shriners

broad boulevards, its green Verdugo hills and its orange groves. Each tourist will be permitted to pluck an orange direct from the tree.

Visitors Coming
The greatest crowd of Shriners is expected in the city on Wednesday when 1000 Nobles of Medinah Shrine, Chicago, will be the special guests of the Shrine club here.

Accompanying the Nobles will be their wives and other members of their parties. The Chicago Nobles will be shown Glendale and the hill country above the city. From here they will be escorted by Glendale Shriners to Flintridge and Pasadena and thence through the San Gabriel valley as far as Pomona, returning late in the afternoon to Los Angeles.

Tomorrow noon chapters of Leavenworth, Kansas, temple will be guests of the Glendale Exchange club at luncheon. The Leavenworth chapters will be entertained by Glendale Shriners during the week under the direction of Capt. D. Ripley Jackson. They will spend several days in Glendale.

All Shriners coming to the city will be registered at headquarters on North Brand. There information will be available and escorts will be furnished to those wishing to see the city. C. W. Dudley is in charge of the headquarters.

Real Turkish Fez Is Worn By Frank Booth

Frank Booth, well known Glendale business man of 107 South Kenwood street, is attracting interest during the Shrine festival by wearing a Turkish fez presented to his father, John Booth, by the sultan of Turkey in 1870, at the time of the Russian and Turkish war. Mr. Booth represented the British government in Constantinople.

TODAY'S GAMES

NEW YORK, June 1.—Six innings of play against the world champion Washington Senators this afternoon constituted the 1925 baseball debut of Babe Ruth. Before retiring Ruth staged a catch, the like of which has not been seen on the Yankee stadium this season, and prevented the scoring of two Washington runs.

NEW YORK, June 1.—Babe Ruth, baseball's most colorful personality, this afternoon returned to the same which made him famous, perching himself in the right field position for the Yanks against the world champion Washington Senators. Salvo after salvo of applause from 10,000 fans greeted the return of the Babe and the ovation was continued when he came to bat in the second inning.

Walter Johnson, another immortal of the game, pitched to Ruth who, plainly anxious, slashed viciously at the first ball thrown. It was a slow ball and Ruth dribbled it towards Johnson who threw him out at first.

Ruth drew a base on ball on his next appearance at bat in the fourth inning, after Combs, the first man up, had singled. Johnson was booed for the pass. Ruth narrowly missed a homer when he smashed the fourth ball pitched into the right field stands, but the hit was foul by several feet.

Meusel, the next man up, tripled and Combs scored, but Ruth was thrown out at the plate. J. Harris to Peck to Ruel. Ruth appeared tired and winded by the running.

FOREIGN SALES

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Text as made the greatest contribution of any state to America's $4,498,000,000 foreign sales in 1924, the Department of Commerce announced today.

Commodities billed directly from the Lone Star state to markets abroad were valued at $737,218,000, just ahead of New York, whose exports amounted to $731,593,000.

Five states were in the $200,000,000 exporting class, according to the Department of Commerce. Pennsylvania, $293,299,000; Illinois, $239,314,000; California, $229,648,000; New Jersey, $225,921,000; Louisiana, $222,847,000.

Four others sold goods to foreign nations valued at over $100,000,000, in this class being: Michigan, $177,876,000; Virginia, $150,198,000; Ohio, $133,559,999; Massachusetts, $134,418,000.

Nevada trailed the nation, with exports of $233,000. "This is the first time in the government's history that an attempt has been made to show relative yearly standing of the different states and regions of the Union in the never-ending struggle for foreign trade," Dr. Julius Klein, director of foreign and domestic commerce, said.

Official declared that publication of the statistics will create rivalry among the states, thus contributing a stimulant to America's foreign trade. Furthermore, it is believed, the figures will intensify the value of obtaining foreign markets for excess products of this country.

Former Vice-President Marshall Is Stricken

mother and adopted son are now buried. Funeral services probably will be held both here and in Marion.

Marshall was 71 years old last March. He was born in North Manchester, Ind., and was educated at Wabash college.

After practicing law at Columbia City, Ind., for a number of years, Marshall became a power in the Democratic party in his native state and served as governor from 1909 to 1913.

The Democratic convention at Baltimore in 1912 which nominated Woodrow Wilson for president, chose Marshall for second place on the ticket. He served as vice-president during the eight years of the Wilson administration, and since March, 1920, has been engaged in lecturing in various parts of the country, but no active part in politics.

Pay Tribute
High officials of the government and members of Congress with whom he was intimately associated during the eight years of the Wilson administration, joined today in expressing profound regret at the sudden death of the former vice-president, and in paying tribute to his rugged, outspoken character and his services to the nation.

President Coolidge was one of the first in the capital to extend expression of sympathy to Mrs. Marshall. In a letter to the widow the president said that in Marshall's death he felt a real personal loss and that the former vice-president "leaves a place there is none to occupy."

STOCKS — FINANCIAL — MARKETS

SPECIAL SERVICE TO THE GLENDALE EVENING NEWS
International News Service, Consolidated Press Association, Southland News Service.

NEW YORK CLOSING

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service

NEW YORK, June 1.—The stock market was irregular and generally reactionary today. The influence of the week-end holiday was still in evidence in most of the speculative markets as well as in the money market, many of the most prominent operators being absent from the financial district. There was also a considerable volume of profit-taking sales, most of which was well absorbed, while new forward movements were inaugurated in a number of specialty and railroad stocks, among the latter of which were many of last week's leaders.

Rumors that the railroad companies were to be more liberally treated in the way of freight rates by the Interstate Commerce commission, particularly in the northwest and in the agricultural districts, induced some buying of the railroad stocks in the early trading. Reading and Frisco common established a new high record, Baltimore & Ohio and Missouri Pacific were strong. But speculative interest in these stocks was not maintained, and the rails were inconspicuous for the balance of the session.

Pools were active in a number of the specialty stocks, which accordingly were able to advance against the trend of the market. These included United States Distributing, General Electric, Western Union, etc.

Attempts to revive speculative interest in the public utility stocks were without much success, though American Water Works and Montana Power were active at record high prices. Shortly after midday a few of the independent oil shares, stimulated by the gradual firming up of the gasoline market, commanded slightly higher prices.

Motor stocks were as active as any major group, but price trends were somewhat mixed. Mack well shares sold considerably higher and General Motors held around top prices. But Studebaker lost practically all its recent advance, dropping back to 46 1/2; Mack Trucks sold lower from the start, as also did Power and Arrow, Willys-Overland and Chandler.

United States Steel and Baldwin were reactionary from the start and American Can, after an early spurt, dropped back nearly 46 points on a small volume of trading. New York Central lost about 2 points and Mack Trucks 3 1/2. With the market leaders headed downward, it was not easy for the rank and file of industrial stocks to maintain their level of prices, particularly as profit-taking and short selling increased in volume and the buying power of the market declined. Selling pressure became more pronounced as stocks settled down to a lower price level and practically every department of the market sold lower than in the first hours of the day.

A number of the automobile manufacturers announced cuts in prices of popular cars; commodity prices were steady and outside markets inactive. Banks called about $15,000,000 from the call loan market and the rate was advanced to 4 1/2 per cent in the last hour.

Stocks sold down to the lowest levels of the day in the period, with all departments of the market joining in the reactionary movement. Good rallies took place, however, in the industrial leaders, including American Can, American Smelting, Steel, Baldwin, General Motors, Mack Trucks, Dupont, etc.

Sales today, $39,000 shares; bonds, $14,321,000.

Smaller Pig Crop Is Predicted

Reports from 1,500 observers from all parts of the United States to the new Index of the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation show that only 80 per cent of the number of brood sows will farrow this spring as compared to last year. Field observations for the Foundation made by 800 experts in the heavy hog producing states reveal the fact that 15 per cent fewer brood sows will farrow this spring, in comparison with 1924.

While hog markets are experiencing the moderate increase in receipts which usually extends from the middle of April until some time in June, they are 20 to 25 per cent less than last year in line with the decline in production. Altogether, there is considerably more hog money going to the country than in 1924. The advance in hogs and the decline in corn has made the price ratio favorable for the feeder for the first time in two years. Eventually, as this favorable ratio continues, the tendency will be to increase production again, but it probably will be a year and a half or more before market receipts begin to reflect such a tendency, according to the foundation's experts.

MONEY & EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, June 1.—Call money on the floor of the New York stock exchange today ruled at 4 per cent; high, 4 1/2 per cent; low, 4 per cent. Time money was quiet. Rates were: Sixty days, 3 1/2 @ 4 per cent; ninety days, 3 1/2 @ 4 per cent; four months, 3 1/2 @ 4 per cent; six months, 3 1/2 @ 4 per cent. The market for prime mercantile paper was quiet. Call money in London today was 3 1/2 per cent. Sterling exchange was steady, with business in bankers' bills at $4.86 1/2 for demand.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, June 1.—Led by wheat, grains turned weak in the late trading today and the finish found all prices lower. Wheat closed 2 1/4 @ 2 1/2c off; corn, 2 1/2 @ 2 1/2c lower, and oats, 1 1/2 @ 1 1/2c off. There was no particular news except the weather report, which forecast showers, to account for the reaction in wheat. Provisions finished higher.

L. A. EXCHANGE

LOS ANGELES, June 1.—New high levels were reported in Edison common and United Oil, featuring the session of the Los Angeles stock exchange today. Edison common opened up 4 1/2 points at $117, closing at $117.50, a new high mark, and was active around that level.

COMMENT by GIL A. COWAN

A no more hale and hearty group in all the world to welcome than the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, who are the guests of Los Angeles, in particular, and all Southern California, in general, this week.

Their fez is the password to the uninitiated. It bids the people of this hospitable land of ours to do all in their power to make the week a most memorable one in the lives of the visiting Masons and Eastern Stars.

Glendale should make its mark by being the most cordial of the suburban communities to the largest number possible. Riverside already has stepped to the front in the lighting display which makes that city glorious in the resplendent Shrine colors on every lamp post of Mission style.

Hollywood, perhaps, is the most profusely decorated section outside of the metropolis. Pasadena vies with Los Angeles in opening its large hotels to the throng.

Indeed, we could carry columns of subject matter of interest to Shriners, but they are likely too busy enjoying themselves and making others happy to bother.
Therefore, something for the rest of the world.

Three incidents seen at the seashore, yesterday, where wonderful weather prevailed:

Boys and girls getting snapshots of each other in bathing attire. Boy insisted his sweetheart be photographed with that crowning glory of long tresses falling over her shoulders. You bobbed-haired beauties may take as just one Hollywood young man's opinion, or you may be led to believe that men really admire
"a hank of hair," as Rudyard
Kipling designates it.

Palpating popper, accompanied by equally proud uncle, just young enough to be interested in children, led the youthful scion of the household, attired in his first bathing suit, into the deep waters of the Pacific, about six inches deep, methinks. Baby, scared banished to mamma, wants to play with papa, insists he stay out of water. In deference to youngster's whims both men retire to the sands of beach to draw pictures instead of fighting for a footing with the Old Man of the Sea.

Another man, bulldog in leash, takes pugy to bathe with him in the boundless main, where dog-fish, catfish, among other poor fish, are not controlled by landlord's edicts. Dog runs away twice and finally gets a proper ducking with plenty of sand mixed in to remind him of fleas, or something. Man laughs at the pooch's discomfiture. But the dog laughed last. He ran back on the beach to where his master had laid his bathrobe on the sands and proceeds to shake off all loose water, mixed with sand, in bathrobe.

One thing you will not enjoy, having had the experience. That is a desert storm. One is bad enough, but to run into two within eight hours' travel over the week-end, the writer will admit that he is sand-blasted, if that's strong language. It seemed at Indio Saturday night that even the desert was doing its share to greet the Shriners coming across "the hot sands to Mecca," not on camels, but in their iron horse caravans, the railroad trains.

Railroads and telegraph shoved this country fifty to one hundred years ahead in the course of a few months after the first transcontinental lines were built.
But radio and airlines will outdo that record. Rich and famous persons will live in this balmy climate, commuting back and forth by airplane to eastern centers as Glendale people go to work each day on the Pacific Electric or by automobile. Radio will make all intelligence general, limited only by the capacity of the "listener in" and the time devoted to "listening in."

GLENDAL SANITARIUM AND HOSPITAL

Tomorrow night Glendale talent will furnish entertainment for the guests of the sanitarium.
Glenn Dolberg, baritone, who recently won first prize in the Glendale district Elisteddoff, will sing.
He will be accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Dolberg, Mrs. M. E.
Canfield, who recently took part in the Chamber of Commerce radio program, will give two groups of readings. The program will commence at 7 o'clock, and promises to be one of great interest and merit.

The sanitarium has recently entertained several well-known clergymen of Southern California.
Among these were Rev. James Small of Monrovia and the Revs.
S. H. Bailey, F. G. Davies and Theodore P. Smith of Los Angeles.
Dr. M. Len Hutchins, prominent W. C. T. U. worker, has been a guest at the sanitarium during the past few weeks. She has left for Edinburgh, Scotland, to attend a convention at which she is to be one of the speakers. Upon her return she will visit the sanitarium again and has promised to deliver a lecture, telling of her trip.

Dr. John W. Hopkins, medical director of the Hinsdale sanitarium, located near Chicago, visited the sanitarium last week.

Bill Russell In Story Of
"On Thin Ice"

Is there "honor among thieves?" Or is this phrase a sop to the easy sentiments of the "public" who romance about the glory of wickedness and the adventurous thrill of playing against order and decency just for the fun of it.

Granting that the adage is a true one, Tom Moore experienced no little trouble trying to conciliate the very indignant protestations of Edith Roberts, who is playing the charming heroine in the latest Warner classic of the screen, "On Thin Ice," which is a rather novel crook story of San Francisco's underworld of criminals.

In the triple role of gangster,
brother and lover of Miss Roberts, Tom Moore finds himself at the crossroads of the paths that lead to and from honor, and he, if anybody, could give an unbiased opinion that would make or break the oft-repeated line, as far as
"On Thin Ice" is concerned.

William Russell, Theodore Von Eltz, Wilfred North and Gertrude Robinson constitute the balance of the cast that enacts this Warner picture on the screen.

"On Thin Ice," which was written and adapted for the screen by Darryl Francis Zanuck and directed by May St. Clair, will be the feature attraction at the Gateway Theatre today and Tuesday.

FILM TELLS NEED OF BETTER HOMES

Picture Made In Washington
Is Shown At Glendale
Theatre Today

Better homes for American people is the aim of the film being shown tonight and tomorrow night in connection with the feature program at Glendale theatre.

This film was secured for Glendale by Mrs. E. S. McKee, better film chairman of the Tuesday Afternoon club.

The film, which was made by the Burton Holmes organization of Chicago, is sponsored by federated clubwomen of California.
The setting for the picture is a little cottage in the White House grounds, Washington, D. C., used as Girl Scout headquarters.

Mrs. F. A. Beach, Girl Scout commissioner of Glendale, Glendale Realty board members and other local leaders are urging all Glendaleans to see the picture, shown in Glendale through the courtesy of W. A. Howe, proprietor of Glendale theatre. The film was shown for the first time last night.

NINETY-ONE GET SCHOOL DIPLOMAS

Commencement Address By Dr. W. B. Holden At Loma Linda

The commencement exercises of the College of Medical Evangelists, the Seventh-day Adventist medical college in Los Angeles and Loma Linda, were held last night in the natural outdoor amphitheatre at the Loma Linda sanitarium. Sixty-nine received the degree of Doctor of Medicine, eighteen were graduated from the nurses' course and four from a course conducted by the sanitarium in dietetics. The nurses graduating from the Los Angeles institution—the White Memorial hospital—will hold their commencement separately and it will take place in a few days, it was announced.

Dr. W. B. Holden, medical superintendent of the Portland sanitarium, delivered the address, taking for his theme "Three Kinds of Service." He said in part:
"I conceive that there are three kinds of service, namely: First, intelligent service; second, magnanimous, generous or unselfish service; and, third, principal service. There was a man a few years ago who amassed great wealth by the sale of his products.
He doubtless merited all of the wealth he got in compensation for his efforts to induce the public to give up the use of coffee. But when he was in position to enjoy the fruit of his labors he ended his own life. He had done only "intelligent service," which means he had worked only for the financial reward.

His Largest Fee
"The reward does not always come in this life in the form of financial or temporal returns. I am sometimes asked what is the largest fee I ever received for performing a surgical operation. I am going to answer that question now. There was a mother who had seventeen children. She was destitute of everything except her house and children. Her house

Weber and Fields at best in "Friendly Enemies" now at Glendale Theatre; great story of World war.

Weber and Fields, the peers of comedy entertainment the world over for half a century, have conquered again, this time without the spoken word, via the silver sheet.

Their performance in "Friendly Enemies," a George Melford production, proves that they have lost none of their old-time magnetism, and that even minus the chin beards, pads and other familiar costume props they are still Weber and Fields, or rather "Pfeiffer and Block," the "friendly enemies" who have been vividly living in the minds of all who saw the stage play back in the World war days.

The story is a powerful one.
Prior to the war Pfeiffer is strong for his Fatherland while Block is ready to renounce all allegiance to the country of his birth. Both are staunch Americans, but when they believe a mistake has been made and he and his friend have bitter arguments on the subject.

Dramatic Climax
When his son, without his knowledge, joins the colors, his cup of bitterness overflows. The climax is a great dramatic triumph which concludes with the father's realization, at last, that he has been mistaken in his opinions and the son's narrow escape from death. The final curtain sees the dawn of peace and love in the hearts of all.

Manager William A. Howe has provided one of the finest programs and well-balanced bills for the four more days that "Friendly Enemies" will be on the screen, ever seen here. An Our Gang comedy, "The Sundown Limited," is one of the most unique and laugh-producing films turned out by Hal Roach in a long time.

'COUNTRY STORE' NIGHT AT COSMO

Plenty Of Fun Promised By Management; 'Goldfish'
Shown On Screen

Tonight is "country store night" at the Cosmo theatre, when valuable prizes will be awarded.
Another attraction tonight will be the famous Piggy Wiggly Hawaiian Trio, known to all radio fans of the Southwest, who come to the stage of the Cosmo theatre direct from the big broadcasting stations.

On the screen will be "The Goldfish," starring Constance Talmadge. Starting out with one perfectly good husband in the opening part of "The Goldfish," Constance, as Jenny Wetherby, finds herself deserted by her young sheik. Each time she changes husbands or dismisses fiancées Constance hands the unlucky one a bowl of goldfish.

Which is much simpler than a trip to Reno.

"The Goldfish" was directed by Jerome Storm, with Jack Mulhall in the leading male role. It was adapted from the successful stage comedy of the same title by C.
Gardner Sullivan. The supporting cast of "The Goldfish" consists, besides Jack Mulhall, of Jean Hersholt, Za Su Pitts, Edward Connelly and Frank Elliott.

burned down, but her children were saved.
"Among them was one whose feet were crooked, the soles turned right up and looked him in the face. As he grew up and realized that he was not like other children he wanted his feet straightened so he could wear shoes. The mother brought him to me. We worked on him for some time and finally he got his first pair of shoes and walked with his mother to my office. To see that little fellow sit and look first at me with a smile, then at his shod feet, was all the compensation I wanted, and I count it as my largest fee. But the reward does not necessarily come in this life. Daniel rendered this kind of service, and at the end of his work was told that he should 'rest and stand in his lot at the end.' Paul suffered many trials while rendering this kind of service, and then at the close of his career said, 'I am now ready to be offered,' but added, 'Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown.'"

Motorist In Midnight Battle With Bandit

A midnight battle with bare fists with a bandit on Colorado street at the Glendale-Eagle Rock city limits ended in a victory for
C. A. Smith, 430 South Columbus avenue, although the bandit escaped, Smith reported to Glendale police early yesterday morning.

Smith was returning to Glendale over Colorado boulevard from Eagle Rock shortly before 12 o'clock Saturday night when a man, dressed in dark suit and cap, leaped on the running board of his automobile. Without a word, Smith, holding the wheel of the car with one hand, with his other struck the bandit in the face. The attacker struck back, but missed, and with a heavy blow, Smith knocked him off his balance. The bandit fell to the street and then ran into the darkness.

Lieutenant Nunn and Patrolman Larson searched the vicinity, but found no trace of the bandit.
